

TWO ARRESTED IN BOMB PLOT

Americans Discuss Modification of Hun Treaty

CHANGES IN ECONOMIC SECTION LIKELY

Reparation That Germany Must Make May Be 30 Billions

MAY GIVE MORE TIME FOR FIRST PAYMENT

Provision May Enable Foe to Acquire Merchant Ships By Lease

By FRED S. FERGUSON (United Press Staff Correspondent) PARIS, June 3.—President Wilson conferred today with American commissioners and experts regarding proposed modifications of the economic section of the German treaty.

The suggested changes were outlined authoritatively to the United Press as follows:

First—Fixing of a definite sum which Germany must pay in reparation, to be $25,000,000,000 to $30,000,000,000.

Second—Clarifying of the clause regarding powers of the reparations commission as to issuing decrees governing German internal affairs.

Third—Allowing four years instead of two for payment of the first $5,000,000,000 of the reparations.

Fourth—Making provisions enabling Germany to acquire merchant shipping by lease, charter or otherwise.

All these suggested changes are in line with the policy the American delegates have pursued since the opening of the peace conference, according to reliable information. They do not represent any sacrifice of principle in the treaty, it was claimed, but are among the most important details regarding which it is felt modifications may be made without affecting seriously the punishment of Germany.

Treaty Modification Agreed to By Big 3

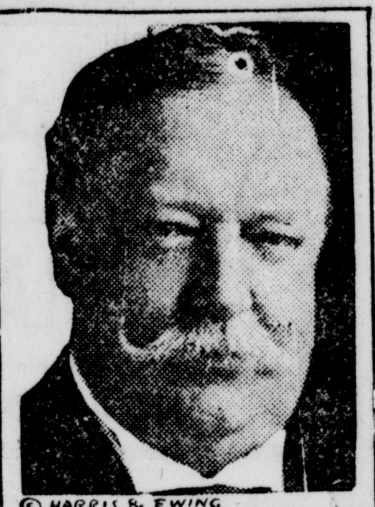

By LOWELL MELLETT (United Press Staff Correspondent) PARIS, June 3.—American economy experts in conference with President Wilson today advocated that Germany be given mandates over her former East African colonies to assist her to meet her financial obligations.

The matter was opened in consequence of Premier Lloyd George's proposal that Upper Silesia be returned to Germany for economic reasons. The American experts, however, suggested that Poland retain Upper Silesia and the Germans be given supervision over certain of her recent African possessions.

In addition to this question, the American commissioners and experts discussed the entire problem of reparations, the Saar valley settlement, details of the league of nations and the points brought out in the German counter-proposals. The President instructed the American experts to meet their British and French conferees and draw up final conclusions for submission to the big four.

From an authoritative source, it was learned today that Wilson, Lloyd George and Clemenceau are now agreed on the advisability of modifying the treaty. The question now was said to be the degree of modification necessary and when it should be done. Lloyd George, it is understood, favors changing the terms before compelling the Germans to sign. Clemenceau was reported to insist that the present treaty should be signed and that it should then be opened for such modifications as are deemed essential. The President's view as to when the modifications should be made could not be obtained.

League of Nations Urged By Taft and Assailed By Sen. Johnson In Speeches

W. H. TAFT

Former President Declares That Without Agreement War Will Come

DES MOINES, June 3.—Denunciation of the attitude of "certain senators" concerning the League of Nations covenant, during which the names of Senators Borah of Idaho and Lodge of Massachusetts were mentioned, and a prediction that there will be another world war within twenty years if the covenant is not adopted, were made at state peace rallies here last night under auspices of the National League to Enforce Peace.

Henry Holt, acting chairman of the peace league's commission in Paris, opened the attack by declaring objections of "certain senators" seemed to be based entirely on portions of the covenant said to be of British origin. "The Paris covenant is not a British document," he added. "I have closely compared both the British and American drafts, and there is no basis for the argument that Great Lodge."

Capt. Thomas G. Chamberlain of California, recently returned from France, also declared some British, declaring the covenant as British, declaring "most sensible persons will demand a little more proof than these senatorial speeches."

William Howard Taft predicted another war would come in twenty years if the covenant is not adopted, and gave a detailed explanation of its objects. Mr. Taft was scheduled to make four speeches, but a cold prevented all but one.

Among other speakers was John Walker of the United Mine Workers of America, who said labor "was strongly back of the covenant."

MEXICO INTERVENTION IS BELIEVED FAVORED

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Republicans in Congress support immediate Mexican intervention, officials and diplomats predicted here today, following the proposal of Speaker Gillett of the House of Representatives to the second Pan-American conference that the American republics unite on a Mexican policy.

Coming at the same time as the reported progress of the Angeles-Villa revolutionary movement in Northern Mexico, the speaker's remarks were generally believed to be a feeler toward United States or joint intervention to forestall the latest revolution and force a stable government upon the Mexicans.

1500 MINERS STRIKE

SPOKANE, Wash., June 3.—More than 1500 miners employed at the mines of the Northwest Improvement company, a Northern Pacific subsidiary, at Cle Elum, are out on strike. The dispute arose when the company discontinued extra pay for dumping cars. The strike is orderly.

POLICE THREATENED BY RADICAL LETTERS

OAKLAND, June 3.—Oakland police today find no connection between the bomb threat sent Acting Police Chief Peterson and the eastern dynamitings. They ascribe the threat sent Peterson to a radical opposing the wide drive being conducted here against radicals.

The letter, written in red ink, was sent from San Francisco. It was decorated with pictures of bombs, etc., and a number of clippings regarding recent dynamitings were enclosed.

JUGO-SLAVS RECOGNIZED LONDON, June 3.—The Reuter agency stated today that Great Britain has formally recognized the Jugo-Slav republic.

California Lawmaker Says Organization Is Just Huge War Trust

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Assailing the League of Nations as a combination of armed powers "in a gigantic war trust," Senator Johnson, Republican of California, told the senate yesterday that the Paris conference dared not amend the league covenants so that the declaration of future war would be decided by a popular vote of the peoples concerned.

SEN. HIRAM JOHNSON

can. of California, told the senate yesterday that the Paris conference dared not amend the league covenants so that the declaration of future war would be decided by a popular vote of the peoples concerned.

"It is not a league of nations to prevent war," he asserted. "It contains within itself the germs of many wars, and worse than that, it rivets, as in the Shantung decision, the chains of tyranny upon millions of people and cements just and wicked annexation."

"It is a great world economic trust, wherein a few men, sitting in secret, may control the economic destinies of peoples. It is not a league of peoples, but instead of coming closed to those concerned, the men and women for whom governments should exist, the league goes a step farther from them. It is not a league to promote peace, but to protect power."

Urging adoption of his resolution asking the state department for the full text of the peace treaty, Senator Johnson read into the record some of the oft quoted utterances of President Wilson regarding "open diplomacy."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—"Certain interests" in New York city are in possession of the full text of the treaty with Germany, Senator Borah charged on the floor of the Senate today.

"These interests are dealing with it and discussing it while the people of the United States and the Senate have never been given the full text," Senator Borah declared.

Senator Lodge declared he had a copy of the treaty in his hands yesterday.

American representatives in Paris ordered copies of the treaty addressed to the United States but these were held up when they were discovered on the way, Lodge said. Lodge's statement came during the senate discussion of Senator Johnson's resolution demanding the text of the peace treaty be given to the Senate.

GARFIELD CHILDREN GET $17,000 ESTATE

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 3.—Five children of former President James A. Garfield will share alike in the distribution of the $17,000 estate left by their mother, Lucretia R. Garfield, who died here several months ago.

The estate was distributed today. The heirs are Henry A. Garfield of Williamstown, Mass.; James R. Garfield of Mentor, Ohio; Mary S. Brown, New Gardens, New York; Irving McB. Garfield, Etosoon; Abram G. Garfield, Cleveland.

EX-JUSTICE HENSHAW DENIES BRIBE TAKEN

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—Denial that he received a bribe of $40,000 for his decision in the Fair will case was made by former Supreme Justice Henshaw, in his answer on file today in the suit of Lieutenant Wesley Crothers and others for reconsideration of the case. A $22,000,000 estate is involved.

Henshaw is made defendant with Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and Mrs. Herman Oelrichs, New York social leaders. The women are daughters of the late Senator James Fair and by winning in the supreme court they defeated a contest against Fair's will.

NO LIBERTY IN RUSSIA DECLARES TAYLOR

Nation Under Dictatorship of Agitators Who Try to Control All

HAS TO GET PERMIT TO LIVE IN MOSCOW

Officials Fail to Show Anything to Writer But Propaganda

By FRANK J. TAYLOR (United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, June 3.—Russia, under the dictatorship of agitators, is a land where liberty is an unknown quantity.

The Bolsheviks have surpassed even czarism in their efforts to legalize control of everyone and everything. It is impossible to buy a shirt, rent a hotel room or go from one town to another five miles distant without permits from the communists' commissaries.

Russia is now what the United States would be if soap-box orators could oust the ordinary people from Washington and replace the government with agitators, each of whom would practice his own theories without recognizing precedent, law or customs of living, in an effort to thrust "reforms" down the throats of people.

I entered Russia through the German-Bolshevik front in Lithuania as the first non-official penetrating this front—hitherto only German "secret official missions" used this route—with an open mind.

Arrives in Moscow After being passed under guard from the army outpost through regimental division corps and army staffs, most of which were composed of ordinary youths, apparently without qualification for responsibility—I arrived at Moscow.

Owing to the fact that there are now no hotels I was obliged while still unwashed to call on the foreign minister to get a permit to live there. The Bolsheviks declare they do not want foreigners inside the soviet domain. They had forbidden further entry of correspondents, but relented and permitted me to remain a few days.

Like everyone in Moscow, a had "perfect liberty," except I could not hire an interpreter, leave town, take photographs, visit factories or schools, rent a room, or see too much unguarded. The Bolshevik leaders promised to show me the constructive results of their system, such as factories running under communism, but they made evasion after evasion, and failed to show me anything other than propaganda and how to interview leaders bubbling over with big ideas, as yet untested.

Taking advantage of a rumor in Moscow that American troops were withdrawing from Archangel, I managed to obtain the release of five American prisoners of war confined in Moscow and being exposed to Bolshevikism by means of lectures.

Men Not Deceived The propaganda, however, did not deceive them. They were: Bryant Hall of New York, Glen Lovzell of Millinburg, Pa.; Jens Laursen of Marlette, Mich.; John Triplett of Hindman, Ky., and Freeman Hogan of Detroit.

After several delays the Yankee soldiers boarded a first-class train for Petrograd, accompanied by a wounded Bolshevik soldier. We did not experience the slightest delay until we reached the final Bolshevik outpost near the Finnish border, where a 17-year-old boy was in command. He refused to permit us to cross the frontier until assured the Finns opposite would receive us.

Jap Diplomat Surely Proud of Straw Hat

MARQUIS SAIONJI

Senior Delegate Mixes Up Habliments of Orient and Occident

PARIS, June 3.—Marquis Saionji doesn't care a hang about style.

The senior delegate of the Japanese peace delegation now here, wrestling with the world's largest problem, isn't particular about sticking close to his native habiliments either.

This was discovered recently when the marquis bought himself a new lid.

He was going about Paris one day after the warm weather arrived when he noticed some natty hats in a window. They appealed to him, so forthwith he invested in one.

Next day he appeared in his native togs, which included clogs on his feet, and the whole business topped off with the new bonnet. Nobody had nerve enough to ask him about that new hat but he was proud enough of it to pose for a picture.

BERLIN, June 3.—President Ebert through the press, predicted today that the national assembly will reject the peace terms unless they are modified. The government has ordered suppression of a military circular asking the German people if they are ready for armed resistance against the peace conditions.

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—With fire fighters battling the flames four miles east of Mt. Islip at the head of Big Rock creek, Forest Supervisor Charlton today was ready to rush several scores more men to the scene should they be needed. Last night the fire burned over 700 acres of brush and timber and today was continuing. No homes are endangered.

2 DIE; HOMES WRECKED IN TEN CITIES OF EAST BY INFERNAL MACHINES

In what may have been a widespread plot, ten bombs were set off in eight cities between 11 o'clock last night and 1 o'clock this morning. Two persons were killed—a special policeman in New York and an unidentified man in Washington.

Anarchist literature was discovered near the scenes of the explosions in Washington, Pittsburgh and Roxbury, Mass. Two men were arrested in Philadelphia, the police not making known their names.

In some instances, police said they infernal machines apparently were loaded with shrapnel bullets.

Chief of Postoffice Inspectors Cochran, New York district, said today he did not know enough about the outrages yet to determine whether they were the work of the gang that sent many bombs through the mails addressed to prominent men on May day.

It is believed that while assassination of public men or big employers may have been intended, the bombs in some instances were planted at the wrong houses.

Secret Service Men of Nation Hunt Terrorists

WASHINGTON, June 3.—With the ablest secret service and explosive experts in the government working on the plot to kill Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer here last night, clues were being pursued to many points in the East today.

Evidence thus far uncovered led officials here to believe that the terrorist ring which showed its hand in several eastern cities operated either out of Philadelphia or Paterson, N. J.

The anarchist killed here by his own death-weapon while preparing to blow up Palmer's home was an "old hand" at the game, according to experts. The bomb he used was of a type identical with that employed by Frank Holt on July 2, 1915, when he attempted to blow up the capitol here. Explosive experts who worked on the Holt case believe that the attempt on the attorney general's life was perpetrated by the same organization as that employing Holt.

As the police today continued their investigations they discovered a Baltimore and Ohio railroad ticket on the remains of the dead anarchist, showing it had been punched at Philadelphia.

That the terrorist had prepared for an emergency was shown by the fact that the hat he wore to the scene was a black derby while he had another soft hat, purchased recently in Philadelphia, in his suitcase, apparently to wear away from the scene.

That he came to his death by stumbling over a ledge near the front of the Palmer house, exploding the bomb before he had placed it, was the decision of investigators here.

Two Explosions Dr. Monroe, explosives expert, said there were two explosions, either two bombs or one bomb and some other explosive.

Finding of a thumb by the police led Inspector Grant to declare that there was sufficient evidence on hand now to soon establish the identity of the plotters.

It was shortly after 11 o'clock last night when the northwestern part of Washington was shaken by a violent explosion at the front door of Attorney General Palmer's home, which crumbled the facade of the house and wrought destruction to doors, windows and furniture to a distance of over a hundred yards in every direction.

Fifty feet from the steps a portion of a man's leg was found. Further search revealed other fragments of a human form.

Remnants of the anarchist's suitcase, in which he is believed to have carried his death machine to the Palmer home, were found buried under leaves and limbs blown from trees by the force of the explosion. This gave the first direct clue that the plotter was an anarchist. It contained a pamphlet signed "An Anarchist Fighter which concluded with the following:

"Anarchistic Pamphlet 'Just wait and resign to your fate since privilege and riches have your heads. Long live socialism. Down with tyranny.'"

The man's hat was next. Police authorities here, with the Philadelphia effort to trace down the idences here by exploding two heavily loaded internal machines.

Anarchistic literature found near one of the wrecked homes indicated a nation-wide assassination plot. Although the blasts were violent, no one was injured.

The first explosion demolished the front of the residence of Burton J. Cassidy of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Company. Three nearby homes were damaged by the blast.

Simultaneously with the Cassidy explosion, another blast was detonated at the home of Herbert E. Josephs, Panhandle railroad train dispatcher.

PATERSON, N. J., June 3.—A bomb placed in the reception hall partially wrecked a two-family house here early this morning. No one was seriously hurt.

Philadelphia Buildings
Are Under Heavy Guard

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 3.—Homes of prominent citizens, churches and public buildings were under heavy guard today, following explosion of two bombs in the West Philadelphia district late last night.

The first bomb to explode was at the rectory of the Catholic church of Our Lady of Victory. The second was at the home of Louis Jagielka, a jeweler.

Residents seated on their porches near the parish house told police a package was thrown from a passing touring car and the explosion followed. Two men were taken into custody soon after the explosions, but the police refused to reveal their identity. The front of the rectory was badly damaged.

Three Radical Leaders
Are Sought In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, O., June 3.—Three radical leaders were being hunted today by police to be questioned in regard to the explosion of a shrapnel bomb that partially wrecked the home of Mayor Harry L. Davis last night.

The bomb exploded while the mayor, his wife and several friends were seated on the lawn in front of the house.

Two men seen about the Davis premises some time before the explosion occurred, were being also sought by police today.

but that he is in favor of several changes was declared to be certain. Lloyd-George is expected to make a formal statement tomorrow morning regarding the proposed modifications.

PARIS, June 3.—Before the Allies reply to the counter proposals, the Germans may be asked indirectly to go on record as to whether they intend to sign the treaty, it was learned authoritatively today.

If the Germans express a willingness to accept the principles established by the present document, then modifications will be made, it was said. But if they say they will not accept the basic principles, the Allies will consider modifications useless.

WETS FILE PETITIONS AGAINST PROHIBITION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—The second step in the fight of the California grape interests against state ratification of the federal prohibition amendment, was taken today when referendum petitions were filed in all the larger cities. The petition circulators would secure three times the required number of signatures, they stated today.

BEATEN, ROBBED BY MEN GIVEN AUTO RIDE

Long Beach Man Found on Beach at Serra With Severe Injuries

Beaten and robbed, in a semi-conscious condition, Frank Leaby, of 1441 Hiellman street, Long Beach, lay from midnight last night until 8 o'clock this morning beside the railroad tracks on the beach at Serra.

He was attacked in his automobile by two young men to whom he was giving a ride. After clubbing him, they dragged him from his machine and left him. Probably they expected to steal the automobile, but when the driver was struck the machine swerved into a bank and one wheel was broken.

Leaby, now at the county hospital, told Under Sheriff Iman, Deputy Sheriff Fowler and Dr. Zaiser that he was on his way to a lake in San Diego county, where he was to go fishing. Last night he was driving alone near Tustin when two young men, probably neither over 22, asked him for a ride. The two men got into his machine and all went well until a point below Serra was reached. There, suddenly the two men attacked Leaby. Leaby says that he remembers throwing up one hand to ward off a blow from some kind of a club. Things suddenly became black, and he remembers no more until he began to regain consciousness as he lay on the sand.

On his head are three gashes, each about four inches long, each through the scalp. His left hand is broken just above the little finger, where he was undoubtedly struck when he threw up his hand.

Leaby was robbed of his watch and chain and of between $50 and $70 in money. It probably was the plan of the young bandits to drag the unconscious man across the railroad tracks and leave him, while they went on with the automobile. It is Iman's theory that the two men did not know that the machine had smashed a wheel until after they had disposed of Leaby.

Leaby told Iman that he remembers hearing a train pass during the night. By that, Iman thinks Leaby must have been attacked sometime before midnight.

Leaby was unable to move, though conscious at times, and it was not until a section crew came along this morning that he was found. Walter Condon, garage man of San Juan Capistrano, took the injured man to the mission town, where he was received by Iman and Fowler.

This morning about 11:30 o'clock a telephone message from Seaside said that two men answering the meager descriptions given by Leaby were seen sitting beside the road at Seaside.

REVILL RETURNS FROM SERVICE. LIVERPOOL

Alan Revill returned this morning from army service, and most awfully pleased to be back in Santa Ana and in civil life again. He was discharged at the Presidio about two weeks ago. He has been visiting in the North since his discharge.

Revill, who is a well known musician of this city, has been overseas for a year, being stationed practically all the time at Liverpool, where he was in the motor transport service.

He was among the motor transport men who handled 1,300,000 soldiers through Liverpool. He did not get to the front, but he was some busy man in Liverpool.

He saw Percy Richards about the first of February. Richards is in fine health and anxious to return home. He was discharged in April. He has been delayed in returning home by the reason of efforts he is making to have the British government pay for his return to the United States.

When he comes he will bring his mother with him.

Wealthy San Diego Man Is Married By Justice at Tustin

Yesterday Justice of the Peace H. W. Smith of Tustin performed his first marriage ceremony, and the man most concerned in the affair was Walter H. Dupee, aged 40, of Santee, a San Diego county millionaire. The wife was Isabel Kennedy Hayes, aged 37. Her residence is given in the license as Del Mar and her occupation as teacher. Justice Smith made a very creditable job of his first ceremony. While Dupee gives his residence as Santee, much of his time has been spent at Coronado.

BRAND TO HAVE PLANE TO REACH HIS RANCH

GLENDALE, June 3.—L. C. Brand, who lives just north of Glendale on Mountain street, is having a hangar built in front of his castle home to house an airplane he is having constructed at Venice under the direction of ex-officers of the government flying service.

Brand expects to use the machine in trips between his home and ranch at Mono Lake, near Bishop, 300 miles north. An army lieutenant will train his chauffeur to navigate the plane.

Don't forget the bazaar and cooked food sale to be given Wednesday afternoon, June 4, in the Parish hall by the Ladies' Guild of the Church of the Messiah.

MAY ESTABLISH AERIAL LINE TO CITY

Aerial Transportation Company Representative Here
Today on Business

Proposing an aerial service for passengers, mail, freight and express, P. H. Kroeger was here today interviewing local residents with reference to support in the project. Kroeger is a representative of the United States Aerial Transportation Company of Los Angeles, and among whom he saw were F. P. Nickey and J. C. Metzgar. Nickey is chairman of the manufacturers committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Kroeger arranged for a representative of the company to be here tomorrow night to attend a meeting of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and to present the plans of the company.

"All we ask is public endorsement of the project by the Chamber of Commerce," said Kroeger today. "We will sell the stock necessary to put Santa Ana on our aerial route. We are going to touch every city of any consequence in California and all we ask is $25,000 subscriptions in stock to provide for terminals."

"It will be necessary to have from twenty-five to thirty acres for a landing station, and each station we will have to build and maintain hangars, machine shops, gas supply stations and other adjuncts to the service."

"We never can tell when an airship is liable to need repairs and adjustments and for that reason we will have to maintain an expensive organization in each community, and we ask each community to subscribe enough stock to take care of the initial cost of terminals."

"The inauguration of an aerial service is the same as it was in the pioneer days of the railroads, when the community had to give bonuses. Every live section wanted a railroad—and it will be the same with aerial service."

"A landing station is something every live community will have to have sooner or later, if it wants to keep abreast of the times. If we locate a station here it will be open to all planes, with a small charge for landing privileges."

Securing of a suitable site for an air station has been under consideration by the M. and M. C. of C., and city council for some time. There are many who see the trend of the times and who believe that the city should buy and maintain a landing field, so that it would be open to the public, for the time is sure coming when travel by plane will be as common as by auto today.

Progressive cities will look to the future and provide quarters while places suitable for stations can be obtained within a reasonable distance of the business heart of the city.

PETROGRAD'S CAPTURE REPORT NOT BELIEVED

LONDON, June 3.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen today quoted the Tidende Tegu as stating that Petrograd has been captured by Estonian and Finnish forces. The British war office regards the report as untrue, its latest information indicating the advance on Petrograd has been slowed up.

DRIVER PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO CHARGE

Frank Reeks of Anaheim today pleaded not guilty to a charge of careless driving of an automobile on the Westminster road on May 18. C. N. Brown of Compton is the complainant. Brown alleges that Reeks caused the wrecking of Brown's automobile. In the wreck, Brown's daughter was severely injured. The question of damages may arise following the prosecution of Reeks.

Reeks is a minor, and his case may eventually go to the juvenile court. Justice Cox received the plea of not guilty and set the trial for June 19.

THREE ARRESTS MADE FOR CORNER CUTTING

Constable George Jubb of Laguna Beach gathered together witnesses and watched the corner of Forest avenue and Park avenue, Laguna Beach, for there had been more or less corner cutting at that intersection, and it was proposed to have the practice stopped. Jubb has sworn to three complaints charging the cutting of the corner. The defendants named are S. C. Winger of Los Angeles, A. C. Wood of Laguna Beach and C. E. Waite of Riverside.

NOT GUILTY IS JURY VERDICT HERE TODAY

This morning a jury that tried A. G. and Floyd Parsons of Orange on a charge of battery upon J. C. Hoge, a real estate agent, quickly brought in a verdict of not guilty.

The defendants through Hoge as agent were engaged in a deal for a trade for W. J. Cozad's store on West Fourth street. Hoge had the contract drawn up. The Orange men wanted to show the contract to their attorney, and in their insistence that they be allowed to show it and in the insistence of Hoge that the deal go through right away, the two Orange men grabbed the contract and a slight scuffle ensued.

In the testimony it developed that the two Orange men believed they were going to get the worst of the trade and Cozad was just as certain that he was.

"I've heard of married couples where each was certain of having received the worst of the bargain," said Cox, "but this is the first time in my court when each side to a trade was so certain he was going to get the worst of it."

F. C. Drumm appeared for the defendants. Those on the jury were F. D. Drake, R. H. Hall, E. R. Halesworth, R. Best, L. M. Keever, Guy Cunningham, C. Imes, John Hohenburg, T. P. Kingrey, W. S. Lee, W. H. Kelly, Wm. McGreevey.

ASK COUNTY TO BUILD BRIDGE AT 17TH

Today a petition signed by scores of names was presented to the board of supervisors asking that the county build a bridge across the Santa Ana river at Seventeenth street.

A bridge that spanned the river at that point was washed out in the flood of January, 1919. The petition states that since then the river has been impassable when the river was up, and the road across the river has never been in good shape. Machines have been stalled in the sand frequently. During high water, residents of the Berrydale section wishing to reach Santa Ana have to travel west to Buena road and come in on Fifth street.

Today a decree filed by Attorney Bishop gives title of twenty acres at Newhope to Frank Holyland. An interlocutory decree of divorce is given Holyland against Mrs. Sarah Holyland.

G. C. Baker, W. F. Gulley and G. W. Etchison have been appointed appraisers of property belonging to the Clark minors.

State Appraiser J. N. Anderson, P. W. Ehlen and G. G. Caldwell have appraised the estate of Julius F. Hoffmann at $5050.

The trial of Judson Bartscherer of Los Angeles, charged with shooting Ed. Hardy, keeper of the Casadores Gun Club, was continued before Judge Williams and a jury today. On the stand, Bartscherer said that he was attacked and that in the scuffle the revolver was discharged, the bullet striking Hardy. Hardy was chasing Bartscherer off the duck club's grounds.

SIGNIFICANT

Strikingly significant is the fact that Riverside and Redlands are taking a lively interest in the Newport Harbor Bonds campaign.

Without intent to disparage the material resources of our sister cities that lie like gems at the feet of the mountains, it may be truly said that much of their beauty and prosperity is literally made of the Spirit of Progress that has ever pervaded and actuated their citizenry. They know a good thing when they see it, and as "go-getters" they have few equals and no superiors.

If Riverside and Redlands and San Bernardino can see at a glance that the improvement of Newport Harbor would be a good thing for all Southern California, and especially for the section lying northeast of Orange county, how much more readily ought Orange county be able to perceive her tremendous advantage and opportunity in this respect.

And looking to the future and further development of Newport Harbor, with federal government aid, we can but view with satisfaction and confidence the efficient co-operation we are sure to receive from the other big and influential counties of this congressional district.

NATIONAL ADVENTURES

Every American has thrilled with pride at the crossing of the Atlantic by an aircraft absolutely an American product and handled by an all-American crew. This is recognized as more than a personal triumph for the fliers and builders of that craft. It is more even than a triumph for the American navy, which organized and managed the enterprise and gave it such helpful support as no private agency could possibly have given. It is a national triumph, the achievement of 100,000,000 people concentrating on something and backing it with all their resources of money, brains and machinery.

It is the first time that the United States government has gone into any undertaking comparable with this. And it should not be the last.

The big war has got Americans into the habit of working together for a common purpose. The trans-Atlantic flight shows what may be accomplished in peace-time by a similar spirit and purpose, at a cost which, though beyond a private purse, is insignificant when compared with war costs. If the expense of that expedition is $1,000,000, as somebody has estimated, that is about one cent apiece for every American. Who would not give another cent for another such thrill?

The world is full of big things to do, some of which require large sums of money, but most of which merely require brains, courage—and co-operation. Let Uncle Sam keep on doing them.

SEEING IT THROUGH

The attitude taken by many Americans toward the assumption of mandatory duties by the United States is inconsistent and cowardly.

The American people went into the war with the declared intention of making the world safe and free for all nations, large or small. The first step necessary was the military defeat of the Central Powers, who were in a conspiracy to uphold and extend the tyranny of big military nations over weaker nations. With their military supremacy crushed, the smaller nations are set free. But they can neither remain free nor make profitable use of their freedom unless the big brothers who rescued them will help them along in their political and economic development until they are taking care of themselves.

Now, our work of liberation is done. If the American people are in their professions honest and sincere, enough.

There is also a lot of descriptive phrases, including such word pictures as "full as a boiled owl," "full as a goat," "dead to the world," and "three sheets in the wind."

Some of these words and word pictures have been used to such an extent that they may be said to be a great part of our language—and particularly in the dialect that is generally used under the so-called white lights of Broadway, New York. No doubt Broadway will sentimentally treasure them in memory of its good old wet days when the rule was to "kick" everybody who strayed in the rest of us will not lose sleep them. The important fact is ooze is going out, and even its friends admit that its passage represent the loss of any thing.

that for some time now, drawn by the resistless logic of world-events, and there is little prospect of getting back to our old isolation.

Moreover, the only new thing about "mandatories" is the name. The United States has been acting for years as mandatory for several Central-American countries, and has made a very good job of it.

RESTORE CHURCHES

A committee has been appointed to inaugurate a campaign in this country for funds to aid in the restoration of wrecked churches in France and Belgium. The project is under churchly supervision, and the name of Henry Van Dyke as associate chairman of the committee is a guarantee of good faith and of the worth of the undertaking.

It is hoped to raise over $3,000,000. It should be a cause appealing to Americans whether they are church-goers or not.

It will be years, of course, before the marvelous creations of stone which were the big cathedrals can be restored, and in spite of cunning workmanship it may be impossible ever to replace some of the beauty which had lasted for ages only to be obliterated by the Huns.

The restoration funds will be devoted not only to large buildings, but to the little, homely churches in small towns. It is safe to say that no way in which American friendship and kindness can be shown will be more appreciated, for the people concerned are Godly folk, and they need all the comfort which their religion can bring them as they set about their work of reconstruction.

Strong For Harbor

There has been a great awakening in Orange county in recent weeks regarding the proposed harbor at Newport Bay. People of Anaheim and vicinity are realizing as they never have before, the benefits which a harbor brings to a large adjacent territory, as evidenced by the rapid growth especially of Long Beach, San Pedro and Los Angeles. The Los Angeles Long Beach harbor hurt Anaheim by giving jobs to several local men, causing them to move from here to the harbor district. The harbor helped us some, too, by giving employment to some of our men who still live here and thus spend their money here.

How great it would be if we could build an Orange county harbor which would provide jobs close at hand for our people and attract new ones who would live here and add to our growth and prosperity. If, as is quite possible, the government should establish a naval training station or submarine base on Newport Bay, the $500,000 bonds we are now asked to vote would be returned to us immediately a hundred fold.

Everybody knows that harbors pay, and that Newport Bay offers an ideal site, so it is not to be wondered at that the harbor bonds are meeting with favor. Many Anaheim people have taken the trip over the bay and have seen the improvements which the little city of Newport Beach has already made, and the excursion is an eye-opener.

The county bond money will cut a new channel for the Santa Ana river west of Newport so its silt cannot be longer dumped into the bay, and will provide channel and landing place for boats 16-foot draft at low tide. It will also extend the Newport jetty so the entrance channel will be kept scoured out. This money will provide one harbor unit, complete in every way, and will be sufficient probably for some years to come. At least it will indicate what amount of commerce can be developed through Newport Harbor.

The harbor project is feasible from an engineering standpoint, according to Major Chas. T. Leeds and Col. W. H. Heuer, two of the government's best harbor engineers, and its consummation will pay us good returns on the investment in many direct and indirect ways. And there is no doubt that Orange county's sixty millions annual soil production and the requirements of a 60,000 population would provide sufficient commerce to keep a small harbor at Newport busy.

With all these conditions favorable to the project, and the people alive to take advantage of opportunities for growth and development, there is every reason to hope and expect that the county harbor bonds will be approved by the voters on June 10.

Because it will provide jobs through industrial development, because it will give us the benefit of water freight rates, and because there are so many good results that are sure or likely to follow the development, it certainly looks like the business thing for us to do is to vote the bonds. It's a dollars and cents proposition which looks good to us.

Not Much Lost

Chicago Blade
Asking "what will become of these after July 1?" a New York paper prints the following list of words: Jag, lit, tanked, pickled, pie-eyed, inebriated, ban, full, soured, stewed, half shot, ossified, paralyzed, spifficated.

There is also a lot of descriptive phrases, including such word pictures as "full as a boiled owl," "full as a goat," "dead to the world," and "three sheets in the wind."

Some of these words and word pictures have been used to such an extent that they may be said to be a great part of our language—and particularly in the dialect that is generally used under the so-called white lights of Broadway, New York. No doubt Broadway will sentimentally treasure them in memory of its good old wet days when the rule was to "kick" everybody who strayed in the rest of us will not lose sleep them. The important fact is ooze is going out, and even its friends admit that its passage represent the loss of any thing.

Rearin' to Go

A Breakwater Ready Made

When one considers the plans for the improvement of Newport Harbor, the fact that a few hundred thousands of dollars will do a great deal more in the making of a harbor there than they would anywhere else in the state where no harbor now exists; stands out as a convincing argument in favor of voting $500,000 harbor bonds next Tuesday, June 10th.

Nature has done much toward the making of Newport Harbor. Nature has finished a lot of work that man will not have to do over again, or alter in any way.

In ages gone by, the waters of the Pacific washed up a natural breakwater from Bitter Point to the entrance of the bay at Rocky Point. Inside of this natural breakwater, known as the sandspit, lies the bay, with ample tidal basins from which water flows in outgoing tides, keeping the mouth of the harbor clean and deep.

If nature had not made this sandspit from Bitter Point to the entrance of the bay, a distance of four and a half miles, any attempt to make a harbor out of the outside bay would entail first of all the construction of a long breakwater, possibly lying where the sandspit lies. Such a breakwater would cost millions of dollars.

For us, that breakwater is already built, and we will not have to undergo the initial improvement that has made the cost of many harbors run into formidable figures.

Because nature has provided this breakwater, a few hundreds of thousands of dollars used upon a jetty to deepen the entrance and to straighten and deepen the channel for docks and turning basin will give Orange county a far better harbor than many so-called bays up and down the state could get with the expenditure of several millions of dollars.

When nature has done so much for our harbor, when all that is needed to better it and make it safely usable is the voting of bonds for $500,000, we would be neglectful of our opportunities and our duties to ourselves and future generations were we to sit idly by and do nothing.

The county or city these days that fails to take advantage of its natural resources is not keeping pace with the times. Let's keep up with the procession.

H—no! Just bronchos, bit by botts,
A-kickin' o'er the traces!
A-buckin' and a-hitchin',
And pullin' by the britchin',
(They're all clean off their bases.)

Now, ruther'n lose a dollar,
Just listen to 'em holler
Agin the Newport Harbor Bond.
You bet, unless I've blundered,
We'll make at least nine hundred,
When liners reach the Upper Pond.

You say there's others croakin':
"Perhaps they're just a-jokin!"
"You can't negotiate the bar?"
I hain't much education,
But I've read about our Nation,
And so, such rot gives me a jar.

"Behind him lay the grey Azores,
Before him not the ghost of shores,
"Sail on, sail on"—It can be done!
The patriots fled at Bunker Hill,
Defiantly they shouted still:
"Fight on, fight on—it can be done!"
Three-fourths lay dead at Donner Lake,
Yet how did not the rest forsake,
"Press on, press on—it can be done!"
Across France came the conquering Hun,
Then our Marines their work begun,
"Hold fast, hold fast—it can be done!"
Now all them noted guys pulled true,
And brought their heavy freight trains through.

A hundred foot of sand, they say,
Is separatin' sea and bay.
Too much sand! Well, I should worry;
'Tis sand, just sand, we need, Old Glory,
To push that rocky jetty out;
Then we can watch 'em skip about,
The liner, battleship and dory.
Vote bonds, vote bonds, IT CAN BE DONE!

If Germany keeps on kicking about that treaty, pretty soon even the United States will be in favor of it.

If woman suffrage were already established throughout the country, there would be nothing dubious about the fate of the League of Nations. Ask the women!

Stories Salvaged From the Street, Shop and Fireside

By Members of the Register Staff

THERE'S MANY A LAUGH IN TALES TOLD BY PIONEERS

If there's need in your system for a good laugh, just get together a few of the old-timers, men who saw Santa Ana grow up from infancy to youth. That period may very well be placed from the day of birth when Uncle Billy Spurgeon laid out the townsite in 1869 up to 1889, when Orange county attained its majority and became a county all by itself.

Last Saturday afternoon there was an impromptu gathering of pioneers at the corner of Fourth and Sycamore, and it wasn't long before someone was reminding the others about events away back yonder in the seventies and eighties.

First on hand at Saturday's meeting were J. C. Joplin and Walter K. Robinson. They hadn't more than had a handshake before up came Alf Cole of Greenville, what used to be the Gospel Swamp section, where hogs and corn grew, and right after him came Sterling Greenleaf. Then, up steps Jim Shaw from the hills and Henry Yount came along.

Tale after tale, reminiscence after reminiscence, laugh after laugh were extorted from the old-timers. There was the time that a bunch of well known men took a man known as "Red" out to a tree and strung him up three times before he confessed to having four $20 gold pieces that they felt sure he had stolen from a store. The money was found in his shoes.

They told about an Anaheim doctor who had a booze party with a Santa Ana doctor and got into a row with him and chewed off one of his fingers. The next day, sober, the Anaheim doctor dressed the mutilated hand. Then there was the time that R. F. Chilton "called" big Tom Rule, and the time, along in 1879, that Rule gave Dennis Kearney, he of Sandlot fame, a beating. Those old-timers would have been talking it over yet if somebody hadn't said he had to go and buy a loaf of bread.

COLONEL HEATHMAN SLIDES DOWN THE BIG PARK SLIDE

Colonel Heathman, who occupies the position of city recorder of Santa Ana, was one of many visitors at the County Park a few days ago. He stood by and watched the children sliding down the big slide.

Along came Fred Siefert, custodian of the big oaks and the pond and the rest of the park.

The meeting was not strained. True, the last time Fred had seen the colonel was at the city hall when Fred was there upon what to him was a very unpleasant affair. He was there to pay a fine, a $10 fine for speeding.

The lion-hearted colonel shook his mane and demanded the $10, and he got it.

Fred Siefert is a good fellow, and resentment lingers not within his manly breast. But when he spied Colonel Heathman at the county park he took the colonel in hand.

"I hereby put you under arrest," said Fred as he laid his heavy hand upon the colonel's shoulder. "You are tried on a charge of loafing, and you are found guilty, and as judge of the superior court of the county park, I sentence you to slide down that slide at the rate of fifty miles an hour."

The colonel saw he was right square up against constituted authority, and without a moment's hesitation he got into line with the children and waited his turn. He climbed the ladder, slow

AS YOUNG AS YOUR KIDNEYS

The secret of youth is ELIMINATION OF POISONS from your body. This done, you can live to be a hundred and enjoy the good things of life with as much "pep" as you did when in the springtime of youth. Keep your body in good condition, that's the secret. Watch the kidneys. They filter and purify the blood, all of which blood passes through them once every three minutes. Keep them clean and in proper working condition and you have nothing to fear. Drive the poisonous wastes and deadly uric acid accumulations from your system. Take GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules and you will always be in good condition. You will feel strong and vigorous, with steady nerves and elastic muscles. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories at Haarlem, Holland. They are a reliable remedy which has been used by the sturdy Dutch for over 200 years, and has helped them to develop into one of the strongest and healthiest races of the world. Get them from your druggist. Do not take a substitute. In sealed packages—three sizes.

"Some time in 1909 when I had an attack of indigestion and everything looked gloomy to me, I received a free sample of Chamberlain's Tablets by mail. I gave them a trial and they were such a help to me that I bought a package, and I can truthfully say that I have not had a similar attack since," writes Wm. B. MY CHILD'S VOICE

THROUGH the shadowy house it flitters,
The voice of my little one singing.
Like a wisp of sunlight winging.

The dusk of the walnut stair;
A quiver of joy, like the ripple of gold
Through the mist of my little one's hair.

And into my mood it flitters,
Threading its binding gleam,
Fresh from the meadows of childhood.

Fragrant with dream;
And my heart unfurls, as
The cherry unfurls to the wren
When he carols the gloom of
Her branches to blossom again.

Sophomore Mothers' Day

The sophomore girls of the high school cordially invite all the mothers of the members of that class to be present at an informal gathering Wednesday afternoon from one to four o'clock. The regular Athena meeting will be held at three o'clock, which will be of interest to many of the mothers.

Delightful Travel Meeting

Travel Section Number Two of the Santa Ana Elwell was delightfully entertained by Mrs. E. E. Keech, Mit Phillips and S. M. Dearing at the home of the former, yesterday. A delicious luncheon was served at one o'clock, twenty-five members being present.

Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh had prepared a most delightful program for the afternoon, the club having for its guests the present Elwell officers and the officers-elect.

The program began by all joining in singing a number of old songs. Mrs. Crose gave a little sketch of how Mrs. Julia Ward Howe came to write the words of "John Brown's Body." Mrs. Gowen read a splendidly written paper on "Spring's Awakening."

The program charmed the hearers each participant graciously responding to encore and at its close a rising vote of thanks was extended to those who had given so much pleasure. A musical guessing game was enjoyed followed by a social hour.

The program was as follows:

"Un-Bel-It".....Madame Butterfly

Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh

"Duet of the Flowers".....

Mrs. Coleman and Slabaugh

"The Birthday".....

Huntington Woodman

Mrs. Coleman

Whistling Solo.....

Mrs. Charles Brown

"Un-Seran Rosa".....Donizetti

Miss Henderson

"Spirit Flower".....Campbell Tipton

Miss Holly Lash

Mr. Clarence Gustlin and Mrs. Slabaugh were the accompanists.

Students' Piano Recital

An enjoyable program, mostly by the little folk of Clarence Gustlin's piano class, was given on Saturday afternoon at the latter's home.

As usual, the numbers, with but one or two exceptions, were rendered from memory, and in a manner that well attested careful and artistic training.

The program was quite classic in character, featuring such of the old masters as Bach, Haydn, Mozart, von Weber, Schumann, Liszt, etc. Several of the more modern composers, such as Heller, Godard, Gurlett, Spindler, Schytte, Goodrich and Gaynor, were also represented.

Those on the program were Mabel Culver, Ruth Thomas, Ida Thorman, Corinne Blackburn, Vivian Rilliet, Rose Marie Smith, Virginia Bailey, Gwendolyn Tubbs, Esther Loerch, Audrey Wendel, Russell Rowland and Elizabeth Parslow.

Missionary Meeting

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. Church will meet Wednesday for the annual election of officers. This will be an important meeting. Mrs. Horton Palmer will lead the devotions, and there will be a solo and a report of the work for the year.

Ladies' Night

The long expected "Ladies' Night" at the First Congregational Brotherhood is tonight. J. H. Cochran is chairman of the dinner committee.

The speaker for the evening will be Lieut. Maurice Enderle, just returned from "over there." Music for the evening will be provided by Mr. Gustlin.

Roosevelt P. T. to Install

The Roosevelt Parent-Teacher Association will hold the last meeting of the year this evening at 7:30 p. m.

Mrs. Anderson will install the officers for the coming year, and a program has been prepared, followed by a social time. Parents and friends are cordially invited.

Songs of the Southland

Grace Wood-Jess, singer of folk songs, who will be the Lyceum attraction Thursday evening has chosen a field wonderfully rich in beauty and interest.

Many of the songs of our Southland which are included on her programs were learned from her Southern grandmother. Her repertoire of French Folk Songs was prepared with the great actress singer, Yvette Guilbert. The list of the old Irish, the quaint songs of England, the naive and haunting ballads of the Southland, combined with the old French, form programs of distinctive charm.

The costumes Miss Jess wears during a program are of the period she sings. One of special interest was possessed by Mrs. Lincoln while mistress of the White House. Another is copied from a painting of a French belle of 1700. In her exquisite costumes she is a joy to see as well as to hear, and her art is one of the rarest and most satisfying of today. Reserved seats may now be secured at Sam Stein's.

Gone to Alaska

Mrs. J. Benton Blee and little son left on Saturday for Cordova, Alaska, where they will join Ensign Blee, who has been transferred from patrol service on the Atlantic coast to the U. S. S. Albatross, which will be in charge while patrolling the Alaskan coast in the interests of the fisheries. The boat will be at Cordova during June and July and at Juneau in August and September. Ensign Blee will be permitted to spend a part of the time with his family.

Impressive Sunday Wedding

A wedding of much interest to Santa Ana people and which was attended by a number of friends from this city occurred at ten o'clock on Sunday last in Los Angeles, when Miss Mary Ely, former supervisor of music in a polytechnic high school here, became the bride of Fred Stewart Coles, Y. M. C. A. educational director at the Arcadia balloon school.

The bride was surprised and delighted to be awakened at seven-thirty o'clock on Sunday by the beautiful rendition of the bridal chorus "The Rose Maiden," sung by sixteen boys and girls of the Santa Ana high school glee club, which Miss Ely had so often directed. It was a beautiful beginning for a perfect day.

The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's brother, Leslie H. Ely at 709 North Kingsley Drive and the pretty bungalow had been transformed into a bower of loveliness with vari-colored blossoms artistically arranged in graceful baskets. The chimney place had been massed with greenery interspersed with white Breads of Heaven and in front of this the bride party stood, while Rev. Perry F. Schrock of the First Congregational church of this city, performed the ring ceremony.

Preceding the ceremony, Orlando Goetz, the well known singer of Los Angeles, gave a beautiful rendition of an adaptation of one of Liszt's love songs and Miss Ruth Violet and Edward Burns, with piano and cello, played the wedding march and softly played during the ceremony and the serving of the wedding breakfast.

As the bride and groom took their places, they were joined by Miss Birdenia, handmaiden in a gown of tan georgette over silk and carrying sweet peas, and Lieut. Howard Verbeck, in uniform. He is an old college friend of the groom.

The groom was also in his Y. M. C. A. uniform and the bride was lovely in a wonderful robe of white silk embroidered net over white satin with misty veil caught with waxen orange blossoms and carrying a shower of magnificent white rosebuds and sweet peas. This later became the prized possession of Miss Beth Phillips.

Following the ceremony and the shower of hearty congratulations for the bride and groom, a delicious three course wedding breakfast was prettily served by the following young ladies: Misses Waive Kingrey, Mignonne Swales and Holly Lash of this city and Miss Ruth Ridinger of Los Angeles. During the breakfast Miss Holly Lash very sweetly sang several solos. The bride carved the prettily decorated cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Coles were the recipients of a number of costly and useful wedding gifts. After a wedding trip by automobile to Yosemite, they will return in about two weeks to make their home near Arcadia, where they will be followed by the good wishes of hosts of friends.

The bride has made a warm place in the hearts of many during her nine years of residence in Santa Ana, where she has been identified with the musical life of the schools, for six years being supervisor of music in the high school.

The wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Ely, Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Goetz, Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Wilson, Rev. and Mrs. P. F. Schrock, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Northcross, Mrs. Caroline Henry, Lieut. Howard Verbeck, Misses Birdenia Henry, Verna Peterson, Beth Phillips, Dora Ridinger, Ella Camp, Adelaide Bell, Josephine Arnoldy, Mary Swass, Bess Henry, Fannie Smart and little Misses Rhoda Goetz and Lena Ely.

Plans Alumni Banquet.

The executive committee of the Alumni Association of the Santa Ana High School held a short meeting to discuss plans for this year's banquet. Miss Hazel Benas and Miss Wilma Andrews were appointed a committee of two to decide upon a place to hold the banquet. It is being planned to make the affair this year a little bigger and more elaborate than heretofore. It is being planned as a welcome home to the members who have been in the service. So as not to conflict with high school or college commencement dates, it will probably be held Monday evening, June 23, although nothing definite has been decided.

The executive committee will meet again Thursday afternoon in M. O. Robbins' office at half past four.

For France's Fatherless Children.

A recital given last night by the music department of the Intermediate school was attended by a large audience and was given for the benefit of the "Fatherless Children of France." The program was well arranged and every number pleased. J. A. Cranstom remarked at the close that it should be repeated. The little singers were well directed and did exceptionally well. Much credit is due Harry Garstang for the good work shown by the pupils of the music department.

The Intermediate School is supporting six orphans, three boys and three girls. Their names are Marie L. Danton, Jeanne Lignieres, and one other girl whose name is not known, and the boys are Alexandre Grandjean, Louis Leedadonnel and Pierre Chastang.

The program was as follows: Selection, Orchestra.

"The Star Spangled Banner."

Flag Salute.

Piano Solo, Elizabeth Wright.

Songs, Girls' Glee Club, "Annie Laurie," "Loch Lamond," "Robin Adair."

Solo, Ruth Tavis, "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows."

Songs, Boys' Glee Club, "Old Folks at Home," "Carry Me Back to Ol' Virginny."

Altar Society at Orange

Mrs. Fred Dierker and Mrs. John Maag will be hostesses to the ladies of St. Joseph's Altar Society and of the congregation on Thursday afternoon at the home of the latter on North Glassel street. Those wishing to go will gather at the rectory at 1:30 p. m.

Invited for Dinner, See Wedding.

Mrs. J. R. Cary gave a farewell dinner party at her home at 617 West Fourth street on Sunday last, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Ruth A. Williams of Huntington Beach, who is to leave this week for the east on an extensive tour.

The decorations throughout the rooms were pink carnations and lacy ferns.

As a surprise to the relatives present, Mrs. Williams and Azore B. Dinsmore were married at the party, they having kept the secret until that day.

Unattended the bride and groom entered to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Elsie Parker of Pomona, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cary.

Dr. Willis, pastor of the Huntington Beach Baptist church, of which Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmore are both members, solemnized the ring ceremony. The bride was beautiful in her dress of white silk.

Twenty-one were present and a sumptuous dinner served. The bride had arranged for the delivery of a beautiful wedding cake, so the wedding arrangements were complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Dinsmore will spend a portion of their time in New York and Maine, where the former's business interests are. They leave with best wishes of friends and relatives.

Served Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. Robert Mize was the charming hostess at a tea yesterday afternoon, the home being attractively adorned with fragrant pink carnations.

The ladies busied themselves with dainty sewing, while enjoying social chat.

Mrs. Mize's guests were Mmes.

New Pictures at Laguna Gallery Attract Throng

LAGUNA BEACH, June 3.—The Saturday evening reception at the Art Gallery was well attended this week. This was the first reception since the new set of pictures was hung, and many favorable criticisms were heard of the exhibition. By some it has been spoken of as the finest exhibition yet held in the gallery. A number of the artists, whose work is to be seen this month were present at the reception. Among them were: William Wendt, Julia Bracken Wendt, Jack Wilkinson Smith, R. Clarkson Colman, Conway Smith, Alice Fullerton, Edgar Alwyn Payne, Elsie Palmer Payne, F. W. Cuprien, Anna A. Hills, Beulah May, Henri G. DeKruif, Emily White, Lillian Ferguson, Robert Fullerton, Duncan Gleason and H. Ravell. Mr. and Mrs. Kilpatrick visited the gallery in the afternoon.

Among the visitors to the Gallery are many who join the Art Association. On Saturday evening the names of three new members were added to the books. They were Mrs. Flora B. Skidmore of Laguna Beach, E. E. Vincent of Santa Ana and Harold H. Kendrick of Los Angeles.

Memorial Day ended with a very impressive ceremony at Laguna Beach this year. The program, arranged by Mr. Josselyn and E. E. Jahraus was presented in the open air, just below the cliffs. A small canyon, formed almost like an amphitheater was lighted by a huge bonfire and there the speeches and tableaux were given.

The program opened with a salute of rockets and gun, and a balloon was sent up. Then came the flag raising by the Boy Scouts under the supervision of Joe Skidmore, scoutmaster. Mrs. Emily Shipstone accompanied a chorus that sang patriotic songs.

Mr. Josselyn led in prayer. Mrs. Marie Fraser sang a solo. "The Vacation Chair," Ensign Harold Kendrick, U. S. N., made an excellent address. "Our Navy and the Sea," R. L. Bishop of Santa Ana spoke on "The Three Wars."

Miss Knap, dressed in the costume of a Red Cross nurse, strewed flowers on the water, and later, with Miss Foote assisted in the decoration of a grave. Lighted by strong searchlights, this last tableau, "Vivant," was most impressive. Two young soldiers, both of whom had seen service at the front, fired the last salute. They were Leman Thrall and Carl Hofer.

"America" was sung by the audience and the chorus, and with the firing of a few rockets the program was brought to a close. E. E. Jahraus acted as chairman, introducing the speakers.

Miss Ann B. Mason, of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fowler, of Long Beach are guests at the Tent City. Mr. and Mrs. Fowler are former Kansas City residents, but have recently come to California. Mrs. Fowler visited Miss Mason in "The Wick-up" several years ago and has since been a Laguna enthusiast.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Ross came through Laguna Beach Saturday on their way back to Los Angeles, after a two-days' camping trip down the coast. They stopped Thursday night at San Onofre and Friday just below Laguna.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Simon spent the week-end in their Arch Beach cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Whitson and their daughters, Mildred and Margaret, of Santa Ana, spent Memorial Day and the week-end in Laguna Beach. They occupied one of the Rounthwaite apartments.

A number of the students, all members of the Claremont School for Boys, came to Laguna Beach on Friday for a short visit. They chose this time in order to take advantage of the low tides, as they were all interested in the sea life and wished to gather specimens from the tide pools. They pitched their camp near Fisherman's Cove, within a short distance of the rocks. Dr. Garrison, head-master of the school, and Mrs. Carvin, the matron, were in charge of the camp. The boys who made up the group of campers were Waldo Spiess, John Orcutt, Robert Pottenger, Ringen Drummond, Leslie Mayer, Carlos Ilfeld, Alec Bird, Roger Scott and Robert Comen.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Miller and Mr. Miller's son-in-law, Mr. DeWitt Hutchings, drove down from the Mission Inn on Friday. They expect to remain at Arch Beach until tonight.

Mrs. Clara Beatty and Miss Minnie Syfert of Santa Ana spent Thursday night and Friday in Laguna Beach. They were the guests of the Jahraus family of the cliffs.

Among the people whom Memorial Day and the opening of the June exhibit at the Art Gallery brought to Laguna were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Payne, who are spending the summer in and near Pasadena. While in Laguna they occupied their studio.

The Mansur cottage on the board walk was occupied from Thursday to Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Glenn and two children, Margaret and Fred, Erick.

Another cottage on the board walk that was opened during this short holiday was the Suprezone cottage. Mr. and Mrs. William Spurgeon and their children occupied it.

ta Ana, were visitors in Laguna on Friday.

The H. E. Wood cottage at Arch Beach was occupied from Friday to Sunday by its owners for the first time in almost a year. Mr. and Mrs. Wood had been in Texas the past winter looking after their oil properties. They are now in California for an indefinite visit.

Mrs. J. Tunnichiff, Miss Polly Tunnichiff, Master Jack Tunnichiff, Mrs. Laughlin, Miss Marion Crandall and Mrs. Tunnichiff, Sr., were in Laguna over Friday and Saturday. Mrs. Tunnichiff is having a summer cottage put up on the cliffs. They will occupy it during the summer. They returned to Los Angeles on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice of Tustin were the hosts over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Stevens, at their attractive beach cottage, "Coral Inn."

Mrs. Otto Armstrong and her two small sons of El Paso, Texas, are in Laguna for an indefinite visit. They are the guests of Mrs. Armstrong's mother, Mrs. C. F. Elliott, who has taken possession of "The Wick-up" for the summer.

Mrs. Edward Simon of Los Angeles and San Francisco, is the guest of Mrs. Irene Elliott Evans, who is occupying the Latham cottage this year. Mrs. Evans and Mrs. Simon expect to motor to San Diego and Coronado this week for a few days of sight-seeing.

The Marian Walters of Los Angeles were weekend visitors in the Chapman cottage on the cliffs.

Among the week-enders occupying cottages on Terry's Point, about two miles and a half south of Laguna Beach, were the Harry Clifts of Pasadena, the Kirklands and the James Loves of Los Angeles, all of whom have their own homes, and Mrs. D. W. Hayes and children of Los Angeles in the Grr cottage. Mrs. Keuhn in the Fouchaux cottage, and Senator Brown and his family in the Bowers cottage.

Robert Fullerton, who had been spending a couple of weeks in Laguna, returned on Sunday to his home in Los Angeles. Mr. Fullerton will return to Laguna before the 20th of this month, bringing with him pictures for the July exhibit at the gallery.

Alpha cottage, owned by Joseph Yoch, was occupied Saturday and Sunday by Miss Josephine Yoch, Mrs. Redmond Barnett and her three children.

Among Claremont people who were in Laguna last week were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bernard, who spent Friday here, and Charles Eaton, Robert Sheets and Clifford Pitzer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Durgin motored down from Los Angeles Saturday to spend the night in their cottage on the cliffs.

Mrs. Roy Peacock and her two children, Bobbie and Margaret, of Laguna, are spending a couple of weeks as the guests of Mrs. Peacock's mother, Mrs. Messenger, in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Lily L. Humiston, of Los Angeles has purchased a piece of land in the Laguna Heights tract. The deal is reported to be about a $7000 one. Joe W. Skidmore was the former owner of the property and the deal was made through E. E. Jahraus. Mrs. Humiston intends to improve her property in the near future.

Mrs. Lillian M. Wollaston, Miss Harriette Wollaston, Charles Wollaston and Will Wollaston and guests were among the Santa Ana people seen in Laguna over the week-end.

William Bathgate returned on Thursday to his home in Villa Park, where he expects to remain for some time. His brother, Sam M. Bathgate, was looking after his ranch while he was away.

He came down to look over the site for the Toy Village, which Mrs. B. E. Brown is going to erect in the very near future on her property on Laguna Cliffs. Mr. Hunt is now drawing up the plans for the buildings.

The Breakers is once more thronged with a gay summer crowd. Its attractive porches, always centers of social activity, were especially crowded during the last week-end and many of the people who came for only a few days are staying over for a longer time. Among those now enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Jones, Chataleine of the Breakers, are: J. R. Burns, a Los Angeles painter of note who is spending a week at the beach, and who is painting much of the time; Mrs. Daniel Elstrom, wife of the famous Swedish sculptor, and Miss Vivien McQueen, of Pasadena. These ladies had intended to return to their home last week but have now decided to stay another week.

Says Muskrats Bore To Gravel, Cause Water Lowering Park Lake

FULLERTON, June 3.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson of 314 East Amerige avenue on Sunday accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John S. Kidd of Brea to Orange County Park in Mr. Kidd's auto. It had been about eight months since Mr. Johnson had visited the park, and he was sorry to notice that the water in the little artificial lake was receding quite rapidly and filling with moss. He was not long, however, in being convinced when he saw a muskrat swimming about. Mr. Johnson says that the muskrat builds his home in the bottom of a lake and digs to the gravel. He recommends that the lake be drained dry and the muskrats smoked out. In this manner a proper depth of water could therefore be maintained without difficulty. The party later visited Newport harbor to see the submarines and got in a jam of 490 other automobiles and the occupants, it is declared, were all harbor boosters.—Fullerton Tribune.

What Heat does to your Automobile Oil

The heat of an automobile engine ranges from 200° to 1000°. This terrific heat breaks down lubricating oil and leaves a black sediment. The volume of this sediment depends absolutely on the ability of the oil to resist heat.

Veedol is made by the Faulkner Process. This new discovery gives Veedol its wonderful heat-resisting and wear-resisting properties. Tests in laboratory and on the road prove conclusively that Veedol reduces sediment 80%.

Your operating costs increase directly as the sediment in your oil increases. Keep down up-keep by using Veedol.

HARBOR WOULD BE EXCELLENT THING, SAYS M'NAUGHT

Time Orange County Was Waking Up to Opportunities, Declares Insurance

There is no question but that a harbor at Newport would be an excellent thing for Orange county, C. W. McNaught, secretary of the Orange County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, declared today. He has lived in Santa Ana for twenty-eight years, and for several years was in the grocery business here. At that time most of his grocery supplies came to Newport by boat from San Francisco, including carloads of sugar, and tea imported from Japan.

"The harbor will cost Orange county people 35 cents each per year and they could well afford to pay $10 per person for this improvement, which will benefit everybody," said McNaught. "Orange county has been asleep to its opportunities, and it is about time we were waking up."

"Some ten or twelve years ago I was a member of an excursion party taken by Germain brothers to their property where the country club now stands. In the party was Mayor Harper and a number of leading Los Angeles businessmen. One of these men turned to Mayor Harper while looking over the bay, and I heard him say: 'It's a good thing for Los Angeles that the government didn't realize the opportunities here when it spent four millions on the San Pedro jetty. One-half that amount of money would have built a complete harbor here, with locks, warehouses, and everything.'"

"Los Angeles gets things because he people get together and work to unite. Some people seem to want Uncle Sam to present us with a ready-made harbor without us doing a thing. He doesn't do that kind of business."

"There is some opposition of course to the harbor, but I have never seen any public bonds proposed yet that did not have strong opposition. We had quite a fight to put over bonds for street improvements, schools, water systems, and good roads, and those who opposed them are now their strongest friends."

"I believe it will be the same way with our harbor. After it is done everybody will benefit and will be glad the majority of the people were for it. Nearly everybody I have talked with is in favor of the harbor bonds, and I believe they will carry."

YACHTSMEN GUESTS AT LAGUNA BEACH

LAGUNA BEACH, June 3.—Laguna Beach was a scene of activity, both on land and sea, on Sunday. About 11 o'clock a group of boats sailed down from Balboa. Like huge birds, lightly skimming the water, they curved in toward shore and came to rest just off Fisherman's Cove. There they dropped anchor and furling sail. The "crews" of the boats then rowed to shore, where they were the guests for the day of Robert Weitbrecht of Orange, at his attractive cottage on the cliff.

The boats belonged to members of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club. They left Balboa at 10 a. m. and started on the return trip at 3 p. m. Because of a stiff wind, it was necessary to tack considerably and they made slow progress.

Mr. Weitbrecht, who sailed down with his guests, returned to the Fisherman's cove to await a change of wind.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Briggs of Santa Ana were also guests of the Weitbrechts on Sunday.

Mrs. Uttley Strong For Harbor; Recalls Early Shipping via Newport

Urging support for the harbor bonds, Mrs. Sarah A. Uttley of Santa Ana writes the Register, recalling events many years ago when Newport was a great shipping port, when vessels landed great cargoes of lumber and other necessities and took away full cargoes of grain. During the five years up to 1899, according to government reports, 550 ship cargoes a year were handled over the Newport wharf. In 1899 the railroad between Santa Ana and Newport was sold to the Southern Pacific and inside of seven years all the Newport shipping had been diverted to San Pedro and other ports. Mrs. Uttley's letter follows:

Editor Register: The articles appearing in your paper in regard to the advisability of voting bonds to further the development of the beautiful natural waterway at Newport—and it must be beautiful when such a renowned lover of nature as the late Madame Modjeska selected this island as the one place to spend the sunset of life, and this in face of the fact that she had the good fortune to visit most of the magnificent natural scenery of the entire globe—are of absorbing interest to me.

It was my good fortune to become acquainted with this valley in its infancy, when it was a part of Los Angeles county. The subject of again utilizing Newport Harbor for shipping calls to my mind a few reminiscences which may be of interest to some of your readers.

First Trip to Harbor

In the early days, in company with some friends just from Smoky London, I decided to spend the day at Rocky Point (now Corona Del Mar or Palisades). Arriving at Old Newport (now called Port Orange), we were taken across the channel in a rowboat by a handsome young American by the name of Joe Wool. The same Mr. Wool is still a resident of Santa Ana. Our first stop was at Abbott's landing, and the only shack on the whole sandspit of what is now Balboa and Newport Beach was located here. Later we went across to the Point. I shall never forget my first impression of Newport Harbor. I was so impressed by its grandeur and the usefulness of its natural channels, I said, "What a magnificent spot for a city, with such an outlet for shipping for all the products of these broad acres of fertile lands."

My friends said, "She is raving again! How can these barren spots and these thousands of acres of Spanish grants without water, be anything but a sheep pasture."

"But," I argued, "in time these vast acres of land will be inhabited by a thrifty race of people."

Early Dream Realized

And now in the evening of a life as a fancier and dreamer, I want to call the attention of the happy and prosperous inhabitants of the richest county in the state, that dreams do come true, and that it lies in their power on the 10th of June to awaken and resurrect Newport Harbor and again utilize it for shipping for the vast products of Orange, San Bernardino, Riverside and other counties in the Southland.

On my first visit to Newport Harbor, I gained quite a bit of information of the early history of Orange county from old Fisherman Frank, the Portuguese caretaker at the channel.

In the days before Santa Ana, Anaheim landing was the principal shipping seaport between Los Angeles and San Diego, and was the base of supply for the whole valley which is now Orange county. It was the only outlet for transportation, except by team. All the lumber for the first houses of Santa Ana was shipped via Anaheim Landing and transferred by team to Santa Ana. Immense quantities of grain, the principal product of the early farmers, were shipped out by way of the landing.

"Vicaro" First Vessel

This state of affairs existed uninterruptedly until 1871, when Messrs. Abbott and Dorman established a lumber business at San Diego, when this company made a new departure by running a schooner, the "Vicaro," into Newport Bay loaded with lumber.

This was the first vessel to put into shore and unload at Newport. The venture proved successful and the growth of Santa Ana seemed to have been considerable enough to warrant the owners of the "Vicaro" in repeating trips at irregular intervals for some time. And thus Santa Ana enjoyed communication with the outside world by means of a boat service via Newport Bay. Later Abbott and Dorman dissolved partnership and with the dissolution came the end of the visits of the "Vicaro," which was transferred to San Francisco and for many years did duty on the bay.

McFadden Business Begun

Meanwhile Santa Ana reverted to the old order of things and made all shipments via Anaheim Landing. The next vessel to put in at Newport was a San Francisco schooner chartered by James and Robert McFadden in 1874, having on board a cargo of lumber for inclosing their ranches. The demand at that time for lumber of any sort was so urgent that they were induced to dispose of the whole schooner load in small lots and return after more. They decided to stay in business and from the landing of that schooner of lumber at Old Newport there developed a regular steamship service at a nearby port and from the sale of that first cargo of fence lumber there grew the extensive business of the company which was later known as the Newport Wharf & Lumber Company. It acquired more than local reputation for its large business both in the Santa Ana valley and elsewhere in Southern California.

For years the McFadden brothers continued to run chartered schooners to and from Newport.

Steamer "Newport Built"

In 1875 the business had expanded so that they were enabled to build a 300-ton steamer and called it "Newport." This schooner remained for thirteen years a familiar sight in its trips between Newport and San Francisco. The vessel was run for three years by its first owners, then sold by them to the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which made regular trips to Newport for ten years by steamer to what had then become the leading outlet seaport of the whole valley, and it was not until the building of the wharf at Newport Beach in 1888 that the "Newport," after sixteen years of service, was superseded by a regular coast steamship company which continued to take charge of the local passenger traffic and the regular freight business.

Freight to Inland Counties

Before the railroads invaded the valley practically all the shipping trade with the exception of team traffic was done by coast vessels. All freight business of Riverside, Redlands and San Bernardino was done through Newport and long trains of team wagons came from these towns at the arrival of each steamer, bringing loads of grain to be transported, taking back loads of freight and lumber. Often the capacity of the vessel was taxed to carry the immense amount of grain brought from this valley and thousands of sacks had to be held over.

Before the wharf at Newport Beach, all shipping was done in Newport Bay at the point now called Port Orange, below the country club.

Railroad Lines Built

Simultaneously with the growth of shipping facilities by water, came the new land transportation. The old stage coach and the overland wagon (freighting were supplanted in 1876 by the construction of a spur track of the Southern Pacific from Los Angeles to Santa Ana. The advantage of this line was further supplemented in 1891 by the building of the road between Santa Ana and Newport Beach by the Newport Wharf and Lumber Company, and for ten years made it an extensive and profitable shipping point until 1899, when the McFaddens sold to Clark, who later sold the line to the Southern Pacific company.

S. P. Diverts Shipping

After the passing of the shipping facilities of this magnificent waterway into the ownership of the Southern Pacific, it gradually became dormant, but its beautiful islands, its deep-water channels, were fashioned by the hands of the Almighty and it will take more than the influence of an outside corporation or words of an outside propagandist to retard its resurrection.

Mr. and Mrs. Tax Paper, would we go back to the stage coach, dusty, unpaved roads and dangerous bridges? How much more do you value your holdings by these improvements? Surely you are a thousand times richer.

Being a woman of an inquisitive nature, and innocent of the mysterious ways of politicians, I must admit there are many things that are confusing to me. Will some one please enlighten me in regard to the following questions:

Why did our government make such a stupendous appropriation for the development of San Pedro harbor when one-tenth of the amount would have made a much better harbor at Newport?

Could it be those who are providing money for opposition propaganda fear that if Newport harbor is again utilized as a shipping point that the gov-

AUTO OWNERS IN COUNTY FAIL TO SUPPORT ROAD FUND

Certificates Are Not Selling As Fast As They Should

Certificates for the building of a paved highway from Merced into the Yosemite valley to cost $1,000,000 and which will make that wonderland accessible in the winter as well as in the summer, are not being taken up as fast in Orange county as they should be. The certificates cost $5, the entrance fee for an automobile going into the national park, and may be used any time within ten years.

Autoists of the county who have intention of going into the park any time within ten years should buy the certificates and help the project. The cost of the certificate will be saved on one trip by the saving of gasoline, oil and tires as between a dirt road and a paved highway.

Northern California is leading Southern California in the sale of the certificates. No organized effort has been made in Orange county to place them. An organized selling campaign undoubtedly would result in the disposition of hundreds of the certificates.

The Standard Oil Company yesterday sent twenty from the Los Angeles office to R. G. Cartwright, district agent, and most of them were disposed of at once by placing them in the hands of salesmen for sale.

There are at least 500 owners of autos in the county who will visit the park in the next two or three years, and everyone of them ought to be interested enough to invest in the certificates now. The entrance fee to the park is $5 for each automobile and the certificates are accepted in lieu of the cash.

The certificates cost those who go in absolutely nothing, but by buying them instead of paying the $5 fee at the entrance to the park, the money goes into the road fund.

The Auto Club of Southern California has placed receipts in practically all of the garages in the county. The receipts are exchangeable for certificates at any office of the club.

The campaign closes next Saturday.

"Toot-Toot." He's a Booster For Orange County Harbor Plan

"Toot-Toot!" "Toot-Toot!" It started on the road to Newport. One autoist conceived the idea of greeting every other autoist who showed himself a booster for the Orange county harbor by carrying a harbor sticker on his windshield.

Every time a car approached with one of the harbor stickers in sight a "toot-toot!" extended greeting of a fellow harbor man. When a car without a sticker approached the horn was silent.

At first some of them didn't get the idea. Often the cars were past each other before the idea took hold and the answer "toot-toot!" was given. Others "caught on" at once and returned the greeting.

Autoists of the county seem to like the idea. Two short blasts of the horn or klaxon have come to mean "Greetings, Mr. Harbor Man (or Woman); keep up the good work and boost the harbor all you can."

This can't be done in town for there are too many harbor signs, but on the county roads the practice is becoming more common every day. If someone extends harbor greetings you'll know what it all means—and return the compliment.

ement might withdraw its vast appropriations from San Pedro and turn them toward our own harbor where the money could be used to a great deal better advantage.

The time is soon coming when the people will put a stop to all unnecessary extravagance of the government and will call for a more economic expenditure of its money. Then will our Newport harbor receive its just recognition from the Federal government.

Tennessee War Hero Sees Sights at Capitol While Guest of Big Lawmakers

Sergeant York Makes Great Record Killing Huns With Rifle

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Sergeant Alvin C. York, Tennessee mountaineer, was an honored guest of senators and congressmen here recently. He was shown about all there was to see around the capitol and the big lawmakers were sorry they couldn't show him more.

Why? Well, because Sergeant York put to practical use the training he had received in the native mountains, while helping to crush the Huns. Among the things he did "over there" for which he had received medals, follow:

As a sharpshooter he killed 20 Germans with his rifle; he captured 132 others at odd times and put 32 machine guns out of action. Any Hun that showed for an instant on the sights of York's rifle, quit the war right then and there.

Among those who showed Sergeant York about were Senators Kellar of Tennessee and Chamberlain of Oregon and Congressman Hull of Tennessee.

AMENDMENT TO BUILDING LAW AUTHORIZED BY COUNCIL

Ordinance Will Be Changed to Permit Tents Within Fire District

The building ordinance cannot again be called into action to stop a tent show in this city, for under a motion by J. W. Tubbs, the city council last night authorized the city attorney to draw up an ordinance amending that section of Ordinance 625 which prohibits a tent within fire district No. 1. That section was used in stopping the Suttle tent shows here last week. Strict observance of the provisions of the paragraph would prevent even a Chautauqua or a revival being held in a tent within the fire district, which embraces practically all of the business section of the city.

"If we have an ordinance that gives anyone a monopoly on the entertainment business in this city we should remedy it at once," declared Tubbs. "There is no reason why anyone who puts on a clean show should not be permitted to operate in a tent."

New Dump Grounds

Frank Thorpe has come to the rescue of the city in providing dump grounds for trash and as soon as a contract authorized by the council can be drawn up and signed by Thorpe, the president of the council and city clerk, the grounds will be available.

Thorpe and relatives own ground on the east bank of the Santa Ana river near the Pacific Electric bridge, north of Fifth street bridge, and Thorpe has volunteered the free use of a strip within the river bottom that will hold the trash accumulations of the city for about three years. He will be paid $15 per year for the use of ground as a roadway to get into the property.

C. H. Chapman, chairman of the committee appointed to investigate and report on an offer of Mr. McClure, who owns property on each side of the city's land on West First street, to buy that property or purchase another tract and exchange it, stated that he had investigated a tract about a mile and a half further away. He made no recommendation because of the proposition of Thorpe.

It was intended to use the city property on First as a dump ground, but the new arrangement will make this unnecessary, and McClure may be given the privilege of clearing the location of objectionable features, which detract from his property.

Myrtle Street Opening Clearing.
The deck has been cleared for the opening of Myrtle street from Flower to Bristol, and this without the creation of a district to put through the improvement. Deeds have been promised to the property needed for the right of way and will be secured at once.

Attorney Joe Burke, representing N. E. Matthews, 401 South Bristol, appeared before the board and stated

Why Hold a Sprinkling Hose?

Will's new sprinkling system gives perfect distribution of water to all parts of the lawn—and works while you continue with other work or read the evening paper.

Cheapest to Install a Most Durable Efficient Syetem

Can Be Installed Without Tearing Up Lawn

DURABILITY

The Wills Sprinkling System is made of 1/2-inch galvanized iron pipe, especially prepared for durability. No rust, no leaks to mend. There is practically no limit to its lasting qualities.

EFFICIENCY

The principal feature of this system is the manner of perforation. The water falls in a fine, steady spray and reaches every corner of space. Not a dry spot left as with the ordinary methods of sprinkling.

CHEAPNESS

The Wills Sprinkling System is laid along the walks and around the border of the lawn. It is not under ground, but the pipe is not noticeable when properly laid. It is therefore cheapest to install.

We have a number of these systems in use in Santa Ana and will gladly give names on application.

the line of the proposed street, as arranged by the council, was satisfactory to his client, and that he had no objection to the street being put through. Conditions were attached, however, and they were that the pipe line inside of the street line be allowed to remain where it is until after the summer season and when the time comes for its removal to a point within the property line the city bear the expense of digging out a couple of trees that are in the street.

Opening of this street has been before the council for many months.

For Public Playgrounds

A request from the Parent-Teacher associations that a public playground be established on city property on West Walnut, formerly used for city stables, was referred to Greenleaf and Dale.

A map showing outlines of the plans of Shaw and Russell for subdividing the Gist tract recently purchased by it, was presented by L. L. Shaw. Shaw suggested that a part of the city property on Walnut be used in opening Garmey street throughout the subdivision to Walnut. The opening of the street would aid in subdividing the tract to better advantage.

Tubbs thought that lots should be retained in full for water development in the future. Opening the street through would leave the city with one narrow lot on the west side of the street.

The matter was referred to the council as a committee of the whole. City Engineer Hoy and Sewer Superintendent Wray.

For Auto Camp Grounds

E. P. Nickey and F. W. Fuller, as members of the committee of the M. and M., appointed to secure a location for public camping grounds for tourists by auto, recommended that property owned by the city in the creek near the Flower street bridge, be utilized as camp grounds.

Nickey was spokesman and requested that the council designate the city property as a camp. The property has a frontage of about 150 feet on Flower street and a depth of about 500 feet. Nickey recommended that a brick fence, water, toilets and electric lights be provided. He estimated the cost at about $300.

"Most cities of any size are providing such grounds for tourists and we seem to be about the last city to get in line," said Nickey. "The grounds will provide conveniences that will be appreciated by tourists. The Auto Club of Southern California will mark the road to the grounds."

Trustees Greenleaf and Dale and City Engineer Hoy were appointed a committee to investigate and report back next Monday night.

For Paving Grand Avenue

M. R. Heninger presented petitions asking for the paving of Grand avenue from Fourth to the city limits, Washington avenue from the Santa Fe tracks east to Grand avenue and Seventeenth street east from Grand to the city limits. This is the work proposed to make paved highway connection to the cemetery.

Heninger has secured the signature of owners of 85 per cent of the frontage on Grand avenue and about 40 per cent on Washington avenue. He had found none who refused to sign and believes that there will be no trouble in getting all the frontage on the streets signed up.

A sixteen-foot paved roadway was contemplated and the petition called for an eighteen-foot pavement. Heninger secured the signatures to the petition on a basis of cost of 50 cents per front foot. It was found that this would not cover half the cost of construction, and as it is proposed to have the property owners pay 50 per cent of the cost and the city pay the same proportion, Heninger was requested to canvass the streets and get signatures on the basis of the property owners paying 50 per cent of the costs.

Re-circulation of the petitions will be held for a week pending an estimate of the cost to be submitted at the council meeting next Monday evening. The cost will be between $2.34 and $2.70 per running foot of pavement, depending on whether the work will cost 13 cents or 15 cents per square foot.

Paving Problems

A number of pieces of school property fall within the scope of paving plans under consideration by the council, and the financial ability of the Board of Education to keep up its end of the work is giving the council some concern.

One improvement that the council particularly wishes to make is the straightening of the P. E. tracks on Myrtle street, below First, and the paving of the street. Elimination of the noise made by long freight trains on the curve is one of the objects. It is hoped to have this improvement made before the best season opens.

The Roosevelt school property fronts on the street, and it also fronts on Walnut, which also may be paved. Intermediate school property on Main street also will come under the work of repaving North Main.

Trustee C. H. Chapman said that he had had a conference with the school board and that it was thought that some plan should be worked out whereby the Board of Education would not be called upon to pave in front of more than one piece of school property in any one year.

Greenleaf and Chapman were appointed a committee to confer with the school board and arrive at some conclusion and recommendation.

City Attorney Scott, reporting for the committee appointed at the last meeting to correspond with the P. E., arranging a date when the committee could meet officials to discuss the Myrtle street and Main and East Fourth street work, stated that he had written and received a reply that officials would meet with the committee, but had set no date. Efforts to secure a definite time had so far been unavailing.

Salary Raises

In an adjustment of the salaries paid policemen and firemen and making a sliding scale according to period of service, Fire Commissioner Dale recommended that the minimum wage for firemen be $85 per month, with an advance of $5 per month each year up to $100 per month. All new men will start at $85. The maximum was placed at $100 per month. Fire Chief Luxembourger's salary was made $125 per month. The same recommendation was made for policemen, except that the minimum is $90 per month.

John Rudolph, head man of the water service crew, was raised from $3.50 to $4 per day on recommendation of Greenleaf. W. W. Taylor, night engineer at the city water works, was increased from $87 to $98 per month, on recommendation of Chapman. Motor Cop Frank Stewart was advanced from $120 to $150 per month on recommendation of Tubbs. Stewart to maintain his motorcycle at his own expense.

Manure and Sweepings for Sale

That the street sweepings and manure at the city barns is worth a great deal more than the city has been getting, is the conclusion of the council.

The contract under which the fertilizer is now being delivered will expire on July 1, and the city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids.

The barn yard manure and street sweepings average about a wagon load per day, and the present contractor has been getting the fertilizer for $250 per year. He has been taking the accumulations at the city stables and has been selling the street sweepings for a good deal more than he has been paying for them, according to statements made at the council meeting.

Council Briefs

Mayor Mitchell is going back to his old home in Minnesota and will leave here Thursday. He has business interests there that will demand his attention sooner or later, and as big matters are coming up before the council later on he thought that he had better go at this time, and asked for leave of absence for four weeks.

The city clerk was directed to advertise for 55 tons of barley hay and 25 tons of alfalfa hay. Bids to be opened at the first meeting in July. Street Superintendent Hoy was authorized to buy twenty barrels of asphaltum.

City Engineer Hoy was instructed to establish grade lines on Baker street, north of Seventeenth. L. R. Klatt recently has erected a handsome residence there and he wants to put in sidewalks and curbs.

The city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance limiting loads of gravel to one and one-half yards, where the vehicles on which the gravel is hauled have steel-rim wheels. The action was taken on the motion of Tubbs, who stated that oil and gravel roads and sidewalk approaches were being damaged by the heavy two-yard loads.

Greenleaf, Tubbs and Hoy were appointed to investigate a complaint by J. A. Hankey that gas from leaky pipes were killing trees on the parking in front of his place at First and Halladay.

Geo. Wells, of the firm of Wells & Bressler, paving contractors, stated that the paving contract on Edinger street had been completed, and on recommendation of Street Superintendent Hoy, that portion of the work within the city limits was accepted. The street has been improved by the city and county joining in the work.

Upon recommendation of Tubbs, the council will carry indemnity insurance with the state.

C. G. Hingsworth was granted permission to put in a 500-gallon gasoline tank at his station at the corner of First and Main street, the installation to be under the supervision of the fire chief.

OROVILLE WILL HAVE AERIAL SIGN POST

OROVILLE, Cal., June 3.—Oroville will be the first city in California to have an aerial sign post.

As Oroville is already a landing station on the route of the aerial forest patrol, it was deemed wise that this city should be the pioneer in this new method of directing travel.

The sign will be painted on top of the exposition building. It will be 100 feet long and about 20 feet high. The word OROVILLE will be painted with an arrow pointing to the location of Riley Field and the words, "Three miles to landing." This sign will be easily legible to an aviator flying at the height of one mile. Work on the sign will begin immediately.

PLAN OF PICNIC RILEY IS GIVEN IS EXPOSED IN INVITATION

County Employees to Gather For Big Doings at County Park Saturday

If the picnic of the employees of the County of Orange goes through as it has started off, it will be a hummer.

It has started off with invitations that toe the mark of good nature and hands out a program beyond the wildest dreams of the wildest dreamer at the courthouse.

Just who wrote the invitation is a deep, dark mystery, though Dr. Shabugh, county purchasing agent, has been sidestepping accusations right and left ever since the things began coming through the mail.

The invitation gives the time and some of the plans for the doings. A secret committee is arranging some secret stuff to be pulled off unawares upon the unsuspecting employees of the county. The affair is to be held at the County Park. Just at present, however, the invitation itself is the big thing. Here it is:

"Listen All Ye Faithful!
"Announcement Extraordinary
"Orange County Employees' Picnic
"Saturday, June 7, 1919, 1:30 p. m. till restrictions removed.

"Do not hesitate to bring the whole family (no matter how young) as ample police protection will be afforded and fingerprints will be taken of all undesirable characters. The only requirements are an infectious smile and a meal ticket which will be issued by the proper authorities.

"All are expected to gather at the Court House at 1:30 p. m. (very sharp), and those having Fords or Automobiles will see that all empty seats are filled. (Mention says this act will not lack mutuality). Assurance has been given by Hon. Nels Edwards (and Joe Backs him up) that the road to the Park will be all paved and in readiness for the event.

"Program

"1:30 p. m.—Start from the Court House.

"1:35 p. m.—Arrive at Park.

"1:45 p. m.—Address, "Where Are We At," by Hon. L. A. West.

"2:30 p. m.—Tenor Solo, "Asleep in the Deep," by Sir James Sleeper, bandleader.

"2:45 p. m.—Tug-of-war between the boys and girls of the Recorder's office.

"3:00 p. m.—Demonstration, "Latest Method of Making Two Hairs grow Where Only One Grew Before," by Hon. H. A. Wassum, assisted by Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg.

"3:30 p. m.—Sports of all kinds (space nor discretion permits going into detail).

"5:00 p. m.—A parachute leap from the clouds by our very own Tom Talbert (Hon. T. B. Talbert of Huntington Beach). Too much stress cannot be laid upon this part of our program as it is probably one of the most daring acts ever performed in Orange County. It is daring with a big "D," in fact it would not be out of the way to say with two or three D's as it is "Durn Dangerous." The management earnestly requests the audience to remain seated and refrain from any show of emotion during this feature of the program as such things would only tend to cause nervousness on the part of the performer.

"5:30 p. m.—A most impressive ceremony will be performed uniting in marriage two of our most faithful and estimable Court House employees. Ceremony will be performed by the nationally-known John B. Cox with Judges West and Williams sitting "En Ban." The wedding march will start the moment the bride party enters the Park under the triumphant arch.

"6:00 p. m.—Breakfast, lunch and dinner, served by Monsieur Jackson and his able corps of assistants. (You paid for it so go as far as you like.) Dr. Zaiser will be in attendance and the ambulance will be stationed at the Southeast gate.

"7:30 p. m.—Moving pictures, showing Hon. Bill Schumacher's 5000-hbl. oil gusher in action; the mammoth printing plant of "The Orange County Citizen" at Villa Park; Hon. S. H. Finley's crew at work paving County Highways in his supervisory district; and many unusual scenes of local interest.

"8:00 p. m.—Dancing, "Catch as Catch Can."

"11:00 p. m.—Grunion hunting on the shores of beautiful Santiago creek.

"Be Sure and Come, and don't miss one of these big features. Johnnie Lamb has been authorized to collect double taxes from all those not present."

STATE REALTY POSITION

Gov. Stephens Will Appoint Colton Man When Act Goes Into Effect

R. L. Riley of Colton will be appointed real estate commissioner for this state. The appointment is to be made by Governor Stephens when the act creating the position goes into effect. That will be on July 21.

The last legislature provided for a commissioner, and Freeham H. Bloodgood, then of Los Angeles, now of Santa Ana, was appointed to the position. The courts declared the law invalid and Bloodgood went out of office. It is declared that the act passed by the 1919 legislature eliminated the unconstitutional features.

Following the last state election, Southern California politicians were of the opinion that among appointments to be made by Governor Stephens one each would go to Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties. Judge W. H. Thomas of Orange county and Judge Sloan of San Diego county were elevated to the Appellate court bench, and Riley was appointed to the State Water Commission.

However, it was known that Riley and his political friends in San Bernardino county were never fully satisfied. They saw that the number of members of the water commission would inevitably be reduced from three to one, and they feared that Riley's job would be short-lived.

The legislature did reduce the number of water commissioners to one, but Riley was named to the new position, and all's well among the San Bernardino county friends of the governor and Riley.

BERLIN IS MAD OVER GAMES OF CHANCE

BERLIN, June 3.—Monte Carlo was a gambler's kindergarten compared to "gambling Berlin" today. In Monte, you could get gamblers' excitement with a five franc piece; in Berlin the lowest bet is fifty marks. While there was a limit at Monte, you may put fifty thousand marks on a single card in Berlin.

If you are a stranger in Berlin, just ask the chauffeur to drive you to one of the five hundred gamblers' "clubs." Berlin has today. Your looks will tell the chauffeur the class of club to which he had better take you to. There are all kinds, from the low class den to the most fashionable with special rooms for ladies, dancing halls and dining rooms, where dinners, wines, liquors and coffees are served at half cost price. The visitors come from all stations of life. The film star sits beside the butcher-war-gaffer; the countess beside a horse-dealer; the baker's wife beside the coquette.

Except for some lotteries and raffles, at most of the clubs the play is "Baccarat." The club owners who get five per cent of the sums raised from the auctioning of "the bank," taking place every hour at least. The "card money" or fees, together with the percentage amounts to somewhat between 25,000 and 40,000 marks per night at the biggest clubs. The directors get 100,000 marks per year.

At no time in history has there been so much gambling at such high stakes, at some clubs 5,000,000 marks changing hands each night. The gamblers want to have all the action out of their fortunes before either the tax collector or the Bolsheviks get them.

But not only the wealthy are infected with the bacillus. In the streets of Berlin people may be seen loose fifty or more marks at a single turn at "roulette." One day a soldier, having lost 500 marks, arrested the bankholder and, being attacked by the latter's friends, threw a hand grenade, killing himself and wounding several others.

The real gambling fever began during the last two years of the war and seemingly has not reached its highest point yet. During the last four weeks about two hundred new clubs have been licensed. One of the new rights the revolution has provided for every user of a large number of courses and all the champagne you want to drink.

The Growth of the First National Bank

An Unerring Measure of the Progress and Prosperity of Orange County.

It would be impossible to present stronger evidence of the great and substantial resources of Orange County than to refer to the deposits of this Bank. Only by reason of extraordinary volume and great variety of productiveness could such deposits be obtained by a single bank in a town of only 15,000 to 17,000 population. And while the directors and officers of this Bank have done everything possible to build up its business along conservative and constructive lines, they freely acknowledge that the phenomenal success of the Bank is due largely to the exceptional resources of Orange County, of which Santa Ana is the financial and commercial center.

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, that the legislature of the State of California at its regular session, commencing on the sixth day of January, 1919, two-thirds of the members elected to the constitution of said state, by adding to article sixteen thereof a new section to be numbered two, providing for the issuance of bonds to the amount of forty million dollars for the completion of the state highway system and the acquisition and construction of the state highway system by the state department of engineering.

ment of principal and interest thereon, the proceeds for initiating, advertising and holding sales thereof, and the performance by the several state boards and officers of their respective duties in connection therewith as therein stated, and all other provisions, terms and conditions in said last-named act relating to the bonds therein mentioned, shall be applicable to the preparation, issuance and sale of the bonds herein provided for, as herein contemplated.

Funds corresponding to those provided for in said act are hereby created, and payments into and out of the same shall be made as in said act provided, said funds to be designated respectively, "third state highway fund," "third state highway sinking fund," "third state highway revolving fund," and "third state highway sinking fund," and the state treasurer shall on the first day of January, 1920, and on the first day of each July, and the first day of each January thereafter transfer from the general fund to the "third state highway interest and sinking fund," and on the first day of July, 1920, and on the first day of July of each year thereafter, from the general fund to the "third state highway sinking fund," the required moneys as provided in section five of said act for the purposes therein stated but as applicable only to the bonds herein provided for and the interest thereon.

The moneys in said "third state highway fund" shall be used by the state department of engineering for the acquisition of rights of way for and the acquisition, construction and improvement of uncompleted portions of the system of state highways prescribed by the act of the legislature approved May 22, 1909, known as the "state highways act," and the act of the legislature approved May 20, 1915, and known as the "state highways act of 1915," and certain extensions thereof described in said last-named act, and also for the acquisition, construction and improvement of the following additional highways as state highways: Barstow to Mecca; to Blythe; Rumsey to Lower Lake; Azusa to Pine Flats in San Gabriel canyon; La Canada via Arroyo Seco to Mount Wilson road; Lancaster to Bailey's; Bakersfield via Walker's pass to Freeman; McDonald's to the mouth of the Navarro river; Carmel to San Simón; Klamath river state highway bridge on Klamath river; Susanville to Nevada state line; Pacheco pass road into Hollister; Visalia to Sequoia Park line; Deen creek easterly via Bear Valley dam to the county road at Metcalf creek in the Angeles national forest; Orland to Chico; Tiburon to Alto; and county line near Michelson Bar via Hino's ranch to Drytown. Said additional highways to be located on the most direct and practical routes; provided, however, that twenty million dollars of the money in said "third state highway fund," or so much of said twenty million dollars as shall be necessary, shall be used for the completion of all of the system of state highways contemplated and provided for in said "state highways act" and in said "state highways act of 1915," and the extensions thereof specified in said last-named act.

The cost of acquisition and construction of the several extensions described in said "state highways act of 1915" shall hereafter be entirely borne by the State of California, it being the intention hereof to relieve the several counties from any further co-operation as contemplated by said "state highways act of 1915," but nothing herein shall prevent any county from contributing towards the cost of said extensions or any other state highways at its option to such extent as it may desire under the provisions of any existing laws.

All provisions of section eight of said "state highways act of 1915," and of any amendment thereof, and any provisions of said act or of any amendment thereof, relating to the selection of routes, character of construction of highways, manner of conducting work thereon, powers and duties of officers in connection therewith, adoption of public highways as state highways, payment of principal and interest on any bonds and appropriation of money for payment thereof, and the keeping of records and making of statements and reports, and all provisions of section eight of the "state highways act" as amended May 19, 1915, and of section eight of the "state highways act of 1915," and of any amendment either thereof, relating to the payment by counties of money for interest upon any bonds and the relief of counties from such payment, shall, so far as applicable, apply to the bonds herein authorized and all highways constructed hereunder.

The following arguments for said proposed amendment have been delivered to the Secretary of State:

This amendment provides for a bond issue of forty million dollars to complete the system of state highways and the several extensions thereof outlined in the first and second state highway acts and also for the construction of a number of new state highway units which have been deemed proper additions to the state highway system by the legislature of 1919.

This amendment has been proposed in response to an apparently unanimous public demand expressed in public meetings of representative citizens, hearings before the appropriate legislative committees and in the press. Completion of the state highways system and additions thereto is imperative for the state's full industrial, agricultural and commercial development.

The equipment and organization for state highway construction assembled under the first two state highway acts stands ready to carry out with greatest speed and economy the objects of this amendment.

Cost of this bond issue will not be levied against home or farm. State corporation taxes will retire the bonds.

At this time, when every governmental activity is being directed toward the furnishing of employment to returning soldiers, this amendment affords a medium through which hundreds of these worthy men will be given the means of earning the livelihood which is certainly due them.

By adopting this amendment, the people of the state will not only be manifesting their interest in the welfare of returning soldiers in a practical manner, but will also make possible the completion of a splendid system of state highways which will be a continuing source of profit and satisfaction to this and coming generations.

(Signed) M. B. JOHNSON,
State Senator, Eleventh Senatorial District, San Mateo, Santa Cruz and San Benito counties.

California has learned that a good system of highways is a splendid investment. Highways constructed in recent years have opened up new agricultural districts, adding many millions of dollars to the wealth of the state. The public revenue derived from values created by highway construction is far in excess of the amount required for the interest and redemption of highway bonds. California has learned that it is less expensive to have highways, than it is to not have them.

The highways of California have contributed to the happiness and well being of all the people of the state. They have saved time and money for the farmer and have enabled him and his family to share in the educational and recreational opportunities offered in town and city; they have made it easier for the business man to do business; they have brought better schools to the country districts by encouraging consolidation. They have promoted a better understanding between urban and rural communities and have helped to overcome divisions along sectional lines.

The proposed bond issue will extend the benefits of state highways to hundreds of communities now more or less isolated. It will enhance the value of property and increase the wealth of the state. It will bring greater opportunities and happiness to the citizens of California. The amendment is of such vital interest to all citizens, that the vote in favor of it should be practically unanimous.

(Signed) EGBERT J. GATES,
State Senator, Thirty-fifth Senatorial District, Los Angeles County, California.

No arguments against said proposed amendment have been delivered to the Secretary of State.

At office, Sacramento, Cal., May 15th, 1919.

FRANK C. JORDAN,
Secretary of State.

G. A. R. Picnic at Balboa
(By Julia A. Garrison)
The G. A. R. and the W. R. C. went picnicking yesterday—Where Santa Ana's harbor is to be at beautiful Balboa.

They were the guests of the Booster club, which invited them there to see what an ideal place the harbor plan for Orange county would be.

They went to the bath house on the beach, where tables were spread in the shade; and a sumptuous lunch for all and each. By the ladies was quickly laid.

From boxes and baskets filled at home with everything good to eat. They all declared they were glad to come and share in such a treat.

The staid old "vets" in army blue and "daughters" full of play and mothers, wives, and sisters, too, went in for a frolicsome day.

A "daughter" powdered a daddy's nose, and then the fun began; and the price of talcum quickly rose as she emptied her powder can.

Commander Maryatt—well, he beat Santa Claus for snowy white. From the top of his hat to his very feet—his blue suit was a sight.

And Mr. Yount got a powdered cheek "There were others," too, as well. But names are sometimes hard to speak and 'twere better not to tell.

And L. A. Schlesinger, the theater man, in his bathing suit of green, was dolled all up from a talcum powder can till he looked like a vaudeville queen.

But they all enjoyed the lovely day, and excellent luncheon, too; until the time to start away, 'The harbor for to view.

The bathers donned their clothes in haste. In spite of the water's lure; Assured there was no time to waste, if the boat ride they'd secure.

They went 'way out in the gallant launch, and sailed around the bay, Did the good little ship so safe and staunch, With her crowd so jolly and gay.

'Till they saw the sights, and visions, too, Of a harbor great and grand, Where mighty ships o'er the ocean blue sailed in from every land.

And they brought rich stores from foreign marts, To exchange for our products great; And a new and prosperous business starts at the county's seaside gates.

There was work a plenty for every one, And factories of many kind; And money flowed in 'till set of sun, Each day that the mills did grind.

With visions bright they stepped ashore, Resolving then and there, That precious time they'd waste no more But work for the harbor fair.

They would talk for BONDS and work for BONDS Until election day, Then go to the polls and VOTE THE BONDS, For a harbor at Balboa.

Lyceum Attraction Tomorrow.
Grace Wood-Jess, who is to be the Lyceum attraction Thursday, recently appeared in Long Beach. The Long Beach Telegram had this to say about her:

The character of the entertainment given by Miss Jess is unique. She interprets the folk songs of many people—not only musically, but with well-conceived, vivid impersonations. Her quaint, picturesque speech and manner enables her to portray with unusual accuracy the spirit of the people behind the song. Her explanation of the history and significance of each song made even the familiar ones seem sweeter and dearer to the listener.

At Rankin's Baby Shoppe.

If anyone has noted the beautifully arranged windows at Rankin's Fourth street entrance, she will of course be interested to know why so much trouble has been taken to make the big glass apartment so attractive. Well, here is the reason:

Rankin's has enlarged the baby department at the big store and it is the loveliest place ever. Everybody who has a heart is interested in the tiny folk and their welfare and the management has put into the baby shoppe everything in the world which the children need from the baby up.

The furnishings are in dainty rose and white, the draperies corresponding. The department is arranged in a private room on the third floor and beautifully decorated with fragrant sweet peas and masses of greenery. Here mothers may make their selections in seclusion with the help of experienced salesladies.

Another feature of the baby shoppe is the interesting and instructive lectures given by Miss Swall, matron at a church hospital. This week she will talk on Thursday and Saturday afternoons at 2:30 on "The Care and Feeding of Babies."

Every mother who visits the shoppe with a baby of one year or under will be made a present of a coupon, good for one picture of the infant at the John F. Rabe studio.

As sweet as the dew on the rose-bud's face,
As soft as the snow-flakes' falling race,
As fragrant as violets' perfume rare,
As pure as the balmy Spring-time air,
This is our Baby.

Cuddled in arms that hold him tight,
Cooing gaily with delight,
A wee bit of Heaven sent down to us,
Filling our hearts with love and trust,
This is our Baby.

Picnic Supper in Park.
The last meeting of the year for the first section of the Travelers of the Elbell was a purely social affair and was held in Orange County Park, with twenty-four present, including the husbands of the members, Monday evening.

The day also marked the natal anniversary of Mrs. Linn L. Shaw and she was honored by the presentation of a beautiful cluster of cosmos, the vase containing them being placed in front of her at table.

After enjoying to the limit all the good things provided for the occasion, including hot baked ham, beans and scalloped potatoes, the merry party indulged in all of the pleasures of the park, not omitting the giddy slide. All voted the affair a magnificent success.

Roosevelt Officers Installed.

The regular meeting of the Roosevelt School P. T. A. was held Tuesday evening in the kindergarten room.

The meeting was opened by those present singing "America," followed by a very entertaining program including: Song, "Never Let the Old Flag Die," by fifth grade pupils. Henry Schrock and Isabelle Brown gave a very clever little play entitled "A Visit from the Doctor," and Evelyn Sherrill more than pleased those present with her graceful Scottish and Indian dances.

Reports were then given by the various committees showing the splendid and successful work done by the association this year. Mrs. Brown, president, Mrs. Gerhardt, secretary of the association and the teachers of the school were presented with beautiful bouquets of carnations from the other members of the association.

Mrs. John Anderson was present to install the following officers for the coming year:

President, Mrs. R. J. Brown.
Vice-President, Mrs. Fred Taylor.
Secretary, Mrs. E. K. Gerhardt.
Treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Winslow.
Corresponding Secretary, Miss Schenck.

Press Correspondent, Miss Pulham. The association is very glad to have Mrs. Brown as its capable and efficient president again next year.

After the business of the meeting, a social time was enjoyed by those present, punch and wafers being served by the refreshment committee.

Women Play Golf at Long Beach.

The Virginia Country Club of Long Beach has issued an invitation to the women of the Orange County Country Club to play golf at 1 p. m. on Friday next in a match game on the Long Beach links.

For Baseball Team and Coach.

The baseball nine, Coach Stewart Smith and Yell Leader Bill Cole were entertained at a delightful dinner last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Smiley, the delicious menu being served in five courses. The table was centered with a graceful vase holding Cecile Brunner roses and each lad found a boutonniere of the tiny flower fastened to his cover card. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock.

Some informal ball was played after dinner and then the merry company finished the evening by seeing John Barrymore in "The Best of Honor" at the West End theater.

Besides the coach and yell leader, those enjoying the hospitality of the Smiley home were Captain Hillard Tyrell, Perry Callahan, Donald Smith, Arthur Perkins, Harold Finley, Donald Hilliard, Tevis Westgate, Clarence Brown and Neal Raney.

For City Playgrounds.

The City Parent-Teacher Association will give an entertainment in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, the proceeds of which will go into the fund for the school playgrounds.

An interesting number from each of the city schools will make up the program and music will be furnished by the high school orchestra. Home-made candy will be on sale.

Profitable Club Meeting.

A profitable meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the home of the president, Mrs. R. Ruth Tiffany, on Spurgeon street, yesterday. Roses were used in the decorations of the charming home. Mrs. Diers led in the singing of "America," and the club voiced responsively the club collect with Mrs. Wells, reader. A vote of thanks was tendered the program committee for the neat and well arranged new year book.

A very entertaining program was given by Mrs. Diers and Mrs. Finney. From the Farm Magazine, Mrs. Diers read a fine description of the progress of woman's suffrage in Finland. Mrs. Finney read the charming story from the American Magazine entitled "Paradise Regained." Many current events and informative subjects were discussed at roll call.

The last regular meeting of the club year will be held at the home of the president, Tuesday, June 17. A large attendance is desired as at this meeting final preparations for the annual outing at the Vandermast Cottage at Balboa will be made.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. T. ANSELMINO

A requiem high mass was sung yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Joseph's Catholic Church for Mrs. Teresa Anselmino, who passed away suddenly Friday night, after attending a church service. The pastor, Rev. Father H. Eummelen, officiated at the mass and spoke words of tribute for a life well spent. The regular choir sang the mass.

Many beautiful flowers surrounded the casket.

The decedent was the wife of Olympia Anselmino and leaves a large family, having been the mother of ten children. Mrs. Louise Wilhelm and John Anselmino were here from Arizona, Miss Mary Anselmino from Los Angeles, and Miss Katie Anselmino, Mrs. Arthur Brady and George Anselmino of this city were here for the funeral.

A daughter in Nevada, who visited here recently, and a son, David Anselmino, in the East, were not able to be here.

COUNTY PARK IS THREATENED BY CANYON FIRE

A fire that threatened serious damage to wooded portions of the Santa Ana canyon burned over about fifty acres yesterday. Had the wind been down the canyon, the County Park, which was in jeopardy, might have been wiped out.

The fire started in what is known as the camp grounds at the Second Crossing, the first crossing above the County Park. County Park Warden W. E. Adkinson, and Fred Siefert, custodian of the park, were unable to find the cause of the fire. There was no trace of anyone having been camping there recently.

The fire was first reported to Siefert soon after noon. With baling crews as helpers, he started to fight the blaze. Adkinson arrived soon afterward, and it was not long before the fire was under control. The blaze burned to the top of the ridge on the south side of the canyon.

This was the second fire that took the fire warden out yesterday. Yesterday morning a fire started in dry grass in a gum grove at El Toro, and five or six acres were burned over. It is thought a spark from a passing engine started the blaze. It was feared that the fire might get to the El Toro store, and a protective strip in the stubble was burned over. The fire in the grove was put out by section crews.

Sunday Fire Warden Adkinson put out a fire that started in an old grove in the Santa Ana canyon near the county line.

"The grass is very dry right now," said Adkinson, "and everyone going in to the hills should be extremely careful."

PETITIONS FILED IN PROBATING ESTATES

Yesterday and this morning a number of petitions for probating estates were filed in the county clerk's office. Under the will of L. C. Wilcox, who died at the Soldiers' Home on May 28, about $400 is to go to the fund for the maintenance of superannuated ministers of the Methodist church and the remainder of the estate, valued at $3150, is to go to relatives, of whom only one, Frederick A. Wilcox of Anaheim, lives in this county. Tipton & Caylor are attorneys for the petitioner, F. A. Wilcox.

Mrs. Adelina Carrillo of Yorba, has asked for letters upon the estate of her son, Angel Carrillo, who died from a bullet wound inflicted at Prado by an unknown Mexican. The estate is valued at $2100. Head & Rutan are attorneys for the petitioner.

The estate of Melissa A. Long is valued at $15,000, consisting largely of a ranch at Stanton. Edward Long of Stanton, asks for letters. Head & Rutan are petitioner's attorneys.

Two sub-chasers were in Newport Harbor Saturday and Sunday. How would you like to see a fleet of destroyers and submarines there? They will come, may be bigger warships too, when the channels are deepened under the county bond issue to be voted next Tuesday.
